Two young Alliance men were killed in a head-on crash near Salem and six persons were injured when two cars slammed into a freight train at Moultrie in a series of violent traffic mishaps in the district early today.

James Lindsay Schwinn, 21, and William K. Carroll, 18, both of Alliance were claimed in the head-on collision of two cars on Route 62, about 1.7 miles west of Salem at 4:15 a.m.

The mishap occurred on the Mahoning County side of the highway, which lies both in Columbiana and Mahoning counties.

Schwinn was the driver of a 1965 auto which crashed head-on into a 1958 car operated by James E. Clark, 21, of Youngstown, who was in "serious" condition at Southside Hospital, Youngstown, with cuts of the face, fractured ribs and a concussion.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Schwinn was headed west and Clark east when the collision occurred on the north side of the highway. Schwinn was pronounced dead at Salem City Hospital with severe lacerations of the throat and chest injuries, while Carroll died later at Southside Hospital from severe lacerations of the face and skull and leg injuries.

The crash is still under investigation. Both cars were demolished.

Four in one car and two in another received minor injuries in a collision with cars of a Pennsylvania Railroad Co. freight train at the Route 172 crossing at Moultrie at 1:15 a.m.

Dodges Cuba Military

Stowaway, 19, Reaches Florida

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—A 19-year-old Cuban stowed away on a refugee boat from Camarioca, Cuba, today. He said he did it to escape military service for Fidel Castro.

The teen-ager, Ricardo Alvarez, was one of 81 persons reaching this refugee haven aboard the first three boats arriving this morning. A stream of other boats was reported en route.

Alvarez said, "They would not allow me in the compound at Camarioca, the takeoff point. So I jumped from a bridge in the area behind it and swam about half a kilometer (quarter of a mile)."

Young men of draft age are not permitted to leave Cuba, the young electrician said.

A Miami-based shrimp boat picked him up.

Among those aboard was a Marianao woman, Valentina Pantoja, who carried a two-foot high statue of Cuba's patron saint.

Apprehended On River Bank

Man Held For U.S. Agents Following Chase In Auto

An East End man is being held in the Beaver County jail today for federal agents after being apprehended by an East Liverpool patrolman on the Ohio River bank at Smiths Ferry when he abandoned a car he allegedly had stolen here.

FBI agents were notified after Frank Boyd of Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. was nabbed by Patrolman Samuel W. Hayes, who had spotted the car in the East End about five minutes after it had been reported stolen from W. 2nd St. by Juanita Belle Ferrebee, 921 Kent St.

Boyd was taken to the Midland jail and then transferred to the Beaver County jail at Beaver to await the arrival of federal agents. He is expected to be charged with transporting a stolen car across state lines, a federal offense.

The woman notified police headquarters at 6:18 p.m. that her 1960 auto had been stolen. Hayes spotted the car at 6:23

The mishaps took place in thick fog at the site, officers reported.

The first car was operated by John Hawkins, 20, of Minerva R. D. 3. The second was driven by Gilbert Haessly, 27, of East Rochester.

Hawkins and three in his car — Harry W. Enidig, 26, of Malvern, Patricia Campbell, 37, of Minerva and Judith Campbell, 14, of Minerva — were treated at Alliance City Hospital for cuts and bruises.

Haessly and a passenger in his car — Helen A. Haessly, 21, of East Rochester — also were treated at the Alliance hospital.

There was extensive damage to both autos, officers said. There are no flashers at the crossing, they added.

Pair Leaps From Car As It Leaves Highway

Two district residents jumped from a car which went over a steep embankment of the Fredericktown - Ohioville Rd. early this morning, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.

The 1961 convertible was driven by Lawrence Allen Green, 19, of R.D. 2, who was headed west down hill and had rounded a curve into a straight section when the car went off the side of the road in thick fog, the patrol said.

Green and his passenger, Robert Prescott, 20, of Calcutta, jumped out of the car before it careened down the hillside some 150 feet. The mishap occurred about a half-mile east of Fredericktown.

B52s Raid Red Area In South Viet

Vietnamese And Cong Guerrillas Trade Ambushes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Giant U.S. Air Force B52 bomber staged another raid in South Viet Nam today while South Vietnamese troops and the Viet Cong exchanged ambushes.

The B52s from Guam hit a suspected Viet Cong logistics complex in the northern coastal province of Quang Ngai 330 miles northeast of Saigon.

On the ground, government troops said they killed 88 Viet Cong guerrillas in scattered clashes but only 38 were confirmed by body count.

In a heavy fight in the Mekong River delta, 155 miles southwest of Saigon, a government unit ambushed about 100 guerrillas in An Xuyen Province and reported that 28 had been killed. No government casualties were reported.

A Communist force of undetermined size inflicted heavy casualties Friday in an ambush near the Cambodian border, 120 miles west of Saigon. The government unit said 50 guerrillas were killed.

A government company engaged two companies of guerrillas for six hours in another delta clash, 80 miles south of Saigon. Ten Viet Cong were killed and light government losses were reported.

U.S. troops of the 1st Cavalry Division, Airmobile, exchanged fire Friday with guerrillas who shot at a convoy in the central highlands 15 miles west of the division's base camp at An Khe.

The Americans said they repulsed a Viet Cong attempt to prevent the evacuation of a U.S. helicopter shot down with four men aboard. The crewmen were rescued after armed helicopters killed seven Viet Cong and wounded four.

In Saigon, a terrorist hurled a grenade over the wall of an officers' quarters, but no casualties were reported. The assailant escaped.

Firm Seeks $103,000 In Court Action

LISBON — A Youngstown rail firm has filed a damage suit in Common Pleas Court here asking $103,886.50 from two Lisbon coal companies and a Lisbon coal operator.

The plaintiff, the Youngstown and Southern Railway Co. of 7891 Southern Blvd., charges that agents and employees of the Tassi Coal Co. of Lisbon "invaded and entered upon" lands of the plaintiff, mined coal from the area and later sold the coal.

The company's petition points out one of its lines extends between Negley and Smiths Ferry and that it owns certain lands located near Grimms Bridge in St. Clair Township.

The defendants named in the suit are Gene Tassi of Lisbon R. D. 3, Tassi doing business as the Tassi Coal Co., the Tassi Coal Co., Inc., of 12760 Broadway, Cleveland, and the Island Run Coal Co., Inc., of Lisbon R. D. 3.

They are accused by the company of "transposing or depositing many tons of earth, rock, and shale in a manner that created depressions in which melting snow, ice and rain water accumulated in a tunnel used by the plaintiff."

The company charges that the tunnel is now unfit for use and as a result its operations and business have been hampered.

Saxbe Reapportionment Plans Set Unless Turned Down By 3 Judges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Plans announced by Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe for reapportionment of the Ohio legislature have already been carried out and are not just proposals, the governor's office said today.

John M. McElroy, the governor's executive assistant, referred to a Friday press conference at which Saxbe outlined the plan creating new House and Senate districts in line with U.S. Supreme Court "one man, one vote" decisions.

"It was not brought out that the plan devised by the governor, auditor, and secretary of state already has gone into effect," McElroy said, adding that provisions in the Ohio constitution give the apportionment

County Setup Listed Under Saxbe's Plan

Under Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe's reapportionment plan, Columbiana County would be in the 30th senatorial district along with Carroll, Jefferson, Harrison and eastern Tuscarawas counties.

It would be the only county in the 34th House district. Jefferson County would be the lone county in the 33rd district.

board (made up of these three officials) power to reapportion the legislature without voter approval.

The governor's aide said the plan will go into effect next year unless it is rejected by a three-judge federal court which set the Friday deadline for submission of proposals.

If the court would reject the plan calling for a 99-seat House and 33-seat Senate, based on single-member districts, the decision would be appealed, McElroy said.

He said there are at least two Ohio Supreme Court decisions upholding the authority of the apportionment board to devise and execute plans, the latest of the two coming during the administration of former Gov. John W. Bricker. "These decisions made it clear that the board has the power to act," he said.

Asked why it was not pointed out at the press conference that new House and Senate districts already had been created, McElroy theorized that all parties were occupied with the mechanics of the plan itself.

"The information was included in legal briefs which were supplied to reporters," he said. McElroy noted that there is another constitutional provision requiring candidates for the House and Senate to have lived in a district one year before they may seek election in that district.

"That means that candidates (Turn to REAPPORTION, Pg. 2)

Draft Card Destroyed By Student

Thousands Involved In Demonstrations In Score Of Cities

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of persons protested U.S. involvement in Viet Nam in demonstrations Friday in more than a score of American cities. More demonstrations were planned for today in an organized weekend of protest.

In California, a major clash had been feared between 10,000 demonstrators and spectators in the largest protest march of the day, but there was little disorder.

The demonstrators attempted a protest march from Berkeley to Oakland, but they turned back when 375 Oakland policemen barred their way. National Guardsmen had been on stand-by alert.

The marchers said they would try again today.

A crowd of spectators estimated at 7,000 got between the marchers and police and eggs were thrown on the demonstrators from rooftops jammed with onlookers.

In New York City a student burned his draft card during a rally beside the armed forces induction center. He was one of the first to do so since such destruction was made a federal offense.

Hecklers threw eggs at 40 pickets in Chicago and there was a minor scuffle. A bystander smashed a placard carried by a marcher and tried to strike him, but a policeman stepped between them. There were no arrests.

Most of the demonstrators across the nation were college students, but their numbers were few in comparison to the enrollments of the schools they attend.

Between 500 and 1,000 students from across Oregon planned a protest rally today in Salem on the Capitol steps. Oregon Secretary of State Tom McCall closed the Capitol to all but state employees.

Board Action On Technical Plan Held Up

Action on a request for establishing a technical institute district at Salem was withheld Friday by the Ohio Board of Regents at Columbus because the proposed district failed to meet the statutory population of 50,000.

The Salem Technical School had filed the application for creation of a technical institute, a development of the present school which would be located in the southeastern part of the Salem School District.

The trustees of the proposed Columbiana County Community College had asked the board of regents to consider establishment of a technical institute with the college.

Property has been offered to the proposed college for a site near the intersection of Routes 164 and 558 near Columbiana. Lisbon School Supt. Oliver Payne, chairman of the trustees for the proposed college, said he learned from the board of regents yesterday they have granted the trustees additional time for completion of a survey of the county's educational needs.

Payne said the survey would probably not be completed before January or February. The proposal for the college would then be formally presented to the regents.

4 Bombings And Threat At Vatican Sifted

ROME (AP) — Police pressed nationwide inquiries today into four scattered bombings and a bomb threat at the Vatican.

The bombings occurred Friday in Ravenna, Reggio Calabria, Genoa and Milan.

At the same time Vatican sources revealed that a threatening letter had been received warning that a bomb would be exploded in St. Peter's Basilica before the Vatican Ecumenical Council ends in December.

Except for the bombings in Ravenna and Reggio Calabria there was no indication they were connected.

At Ravenna a bomb knocked over an electric power pylon, and at Reggio Calabria, a small explosive charge slightly damaged a power company warehouse.

These blasts occurred just a few hours after the conclusion of a nationwide strike by employees of the nationalized power company.

In Genoa a bomb exploded outside a provincial government building. In Milan a blast rocked a convent school.

Urges Movement Be Ground To Bits

Stennis Remark On Draft Stirs Up Student Leftists

NEW YORK (AP) — Several leftist student groups appeared to be on a collision course with the Department of Justice today after Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., denounced "an unwarranted and disgraceful campaign" to help young men avoid the draft.

But whether they will be prosecuted is a decision the department hasn't made yet.

Stennis, in a Senate speech, urged the administration "to immediately move to jerk this movement up by the roots and grind it to bits."

The student groups defended their coast-to-coast protest marches, speeches and pamphleteering as morally justified, and even necessary.

Stennis cited a series of CBS television news programs this week which, he said, "described and presented interviews from some of the schools of instruction being conducted to teach young American men ways of evading service to their country."

Wreck At Wheeling Claims Youth's Life

WHEELING (AP) — Police are investigating a single car wreck here Friday that claimed the life of a 17-year-old local youth.

Ralph Fetty of Wheeling died a few hours after the car in which he was riding crashed into a utility pole and stone abutment. A 16-year-old youth driving the car has been charged with driving without a license.

Police said they still are not sure who owned the car. The collision occurred on a city street shortly before 2 p.m. Young Fetty died at a local hospital a few hours later.

Doctors Take Stitches Out Of President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors removed all the stitches from President Johnson's abdomen today and reported "all went well."

Asst. Press Secretary Joseph Laitin reported the stitches, which closed the incision made after a gall bladder operation last week, were removed after an early breakfast. Dr. George A. Hallenbeck of Mayo Clinic, chief surgeon at the operation, supervised removal of the stitches.

Also scheduled for the President today was a dental checkup, a matter of convenience because of the time available during his hospitalization.

Laitin said, "It is just a routine dental checkup," having no relation to last week's operation.

It was the ninth day since the President underwent surgery and his recuperation was continuing to go on schedule. Johnson went to bed at 2 a.m. today, Laitin reported, and slept until 7 a.m.

Two Are Hospitalized After Route 68 Mishap

Two motorists were hospitalized following a two-car mishap early today on Route 68 between Cooks Ferry and Industry.

The injured were Paul Mueller, 7 West Drive, Midland, and Reynold Sanchez, 1009 Bechtel St., Monaca.

The accident occurred at 3:20 a. m. when Mueller was traveling west on Route 68 and attempted to pass the Sanchez car. According to Industry police officer Roy Hohenshell, Mueller cut in too sharply, striking the left front door of the Sanchez car, lost control and went into the railroad tracks.

Mueller received lacerations of the forehead and Sanchez will have X-rays of the head taken.

Hohenshell and Midland police investigated the accident.

Hohenshell investigated two other accidents Friday afternoon.

The first involved four autos at a road construction site on Route 68 in Industry Heights at 3:50 p. m.

Miss Esther Lou Hodge, 26, 855 Railroad Lane, Midland, was traveling west when she came upon three autos stopped at a barricade for oncoming traffic.

where sections of highway are being replaced. She attempted to stop, but the brakes in her auto failed, causing her to collide with a car driven by Charles J. Musser, 19, 3rd Midcrest St. of Midland.

On impact, the Musser car rammed into an auto driven by Miss Carolyn Vried, 21, 314 Center Grange Rd., Monaca, whose car struck the auto owned by Steve Chumura Jr., 35, of 851 Maryland Ave., Midland.

No injuries were suffered, but there was extensive damage to the Hodge car. The other autos received minor damages.

At 5:45 p. m., Hohenshell investigated a car and tractor trailer mishap on Route 68 between Cooks Ferry and Industry.

Albert E. Reynolds Jr., 23, of Stevens Phillips Homes, Apartment 26, of Monaca, was traveling west when he attempted to pass the tractor trailer operated by Clifford Jackson, 116 Prospect St., Youngstown, Ohio.

Minor damage was inflicted to the Reynolds car when Jackson pulled to the left striking the passing auto with one of the wheels of the trailer.

No charges have been filed.

Grange Holds Busy Meeting

HIGHLANDTOWN — The charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Edith Hays during the meeting of the Highlandtown Grange Thursday night.

It was mounted on a new easel donated by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Close in memory of their daughter, Miss Mary Dale Close, Ray Leatherberry, master, presided and all other new officers assumed their duties. Mrs. Nellie Mitcheson was received as a member, having transferred from Fox Township grange.

The auditing committee of Mrs. Peggy Rose, Mrs. Vera Culp and Mrs. Olive Witherow submitted its report.

A junior committee was named as follows: Robert McPherson, Mrs. Culp and Mrs. Witherow. Leatherberry announced that six new members will be obligated with the first and second degree at the next meeting Oct. 28.

Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry, lecturer, announced a Halloween party will precede the next meeting. Any adult not in costume will be fined $2, she cautioned. Mrs. Esther Smith, home economics chairman, asked each family to bring doughnuts for the party. The committee will furnish cider.

The program for the subordinate grange meeting, arranged by Mrs. Leatherberry, opened with a playlet, "The Dumb Dodos," by Lynette Hays, Kay McKenzie, Chris Wilson and Marjorie Witherow, who also sang "Tell Me Why".

The remainder of the program was: Reading, "A Lecturer's Tribute," Mrs. Geraldine Kessel; one-minute speeches on safety, motto of the grange for the year, Robert McPherson, Robert Hays, Robert Seigler and James Kessel, and a display of unsafe objects arranged in the center of the floor.

Mrs. Elaine Jarvis, matron and Mrs. Witherow, assistant, were in charge of the juvenile grange meeting. Kendra Rose, lecturer, presented the following program: Quiz, "Name My Other Half," grange members; jokes, Margie Francis, Carol Leatherberry and Susan Rose; poem, "October's Party," Kay McKenzie; singing of "Happy Birthday" to Brenda Rose.

Lunch was served 38 by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Helen Lucas, Mrs. Helen Rose and Mrs. Mabel Boyd.

Two Bound Over After Hearings

LISBON — A Wellsville man was bound over to Common Pleas Court Friday in Southwest Area County Court after a preliminary hearing on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon.

The defendant, James Petties, 28, pleaded not guilty before Judge J. L. MacDonald.

Petties was committed to the County Jail here when he failed to meet $1,000 bond set by the judge.

Erwin Yoder, 32, of Carrollton R.D. 1 was bound over to Common Pleas Court Friday after a preliminary hearing on a charge of theft of a motor vehicle Sept. 23. He pleaded not guilty and had bond set at $1,000.

In other court action, three motorists were fined $10 each on traffic charges. They are Eugene H. Webster, 18, of Salineville, failing to stop in an assured clear distance; Carl W. Hertel, 31, of Minerva, operating a motor vehicle with an insecure load; Dewaine E. Coldsnow, 29, of East Rochester, failure to register a motor vehicle.

William L. Cooper, 18, of Minerva was fined $5 each on two motor vehicle charges — operating a motor vehicle left of center and operating a motor vehicle with an insecure load.

Three persons forfeited appearance bonds of $15 each. They are Allen C. Barrett, 23, of Akron, operating a motor vehicle in an unsafe condition; Michael T. Dodasovich, 27, of Mingo Junction, speeding; and Larry W. Glenn, 30, of Lisbon R.D. 3, also speeding.

who want to run in the 1966 November election will have to establish residence in the district they seek to represent by Nov. 1 of this year," he said.

He noted that under Ohio's new appointment, there are several instances where candidates will be living in the same district. Seven present representatives live in the same district in Cuyahoga County and five have the same one in Franklin, he noted.

The three-judge federal court which called for redistricting plans received a half dozen new proposals before the Friday deadline. They included one from a high school civics class.

Filing plans, in addition to the students, were James D. Nolan of Cleveland, whose suit led to a ruling invalidating a section of Ohio's constitution guaranteeing each county at Citizens League of Greater Cleveland, the Non-Partisan Committee to save Representative Government, and State Rep. William B. Nye, D-Akron.

The apportionment board's plan formed new House districts by merging low population counties into districts of about 97,000 residents and by subdividing major counties.

Saxbe said groups of three House districts were combined to form senatorial districts of about 277,000 population each. He said population deviation for House districts averages 6.34 per cent and only 3.86 per cent for senatorial districts, well below the 15 per cent generally regarded as the maximum.

3 Brothers Given Fines, Probation

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Three Youngstown brothers were given fines and probation Friday on tax evasion charges in connection with federal taxes on the estate of their dead brother, Vince Deniro, a Youngstown rackets figure. One of them also received a 90-day prison term.

The Deniros—Michael, Frank Jr., and Louis—were found guilty by U. S. District Judge Frank J. Battisti last August of trying to evade payment of $111,020 in taxes from the estate left by Vince. The government charged the brothers tried to evade paying estate and inheritance taxes on a $500,000 estate left by Vince, who was killed here July 17, 1961 by a bomb connected to the engine of his car.

Defense lawyer James J. Carroll argued that Vince had no persons estate and was only an employee of a cigarette company operated by his three brothers. Judge Battisti fined Louis Deniro $3,000 and gave him three years' probation, with the first 90 days to be spent in a federal penal institution.

Frank Jr. and Michael each was fined $1,000 and given three years' probation.

East Palestine Man Uninjured In Wreck

Floyd Williams Davis, 54, of 757 Pine St. Circle, East Palestine, escaped injuries early this morning when his car left the road and struck an embankment on Pennsylvania Route 51, near the Ohio state line.

Williams was traveling north at 6 a. m. when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel and lost control of his automobile. Damage to the car was estimated at $400.

Pennsylvania State Police at the Chippewa Township barracks said Williams was charged with reckless driving.

2 Wellsville Youths Enlist In Air Force

Two Wellsville residents are among the latest to enlist in the Air Force, Staff Sgt. M. Stanley, local recruiter, announced today.

They are Ronald Lane Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd D. Hall of 807 Buckeye Ave., and Charles Ray Gamble, son of Mrs. Marian L. Heddeleston of 627 Owens Rd.

Graduates of Wellsville High School, they are taking indoctrination training at Lackland Air Force base in San Antonio, Tex.

Deaths and Funerals

Frank R. Nye

Services will be held Monday for Frank R. Nye, 87, a resident of the Columbiana County Home near Lisbon who died Friday morning at Salem City Hospital after a lingering illness.

Born April 8, 1878, at Ferry, Mich., he had been a resident of the Midland area for about 25 years and later resided in Beaver and East Liverpool.

He had been employed for many years as a millwright in the Blooming Mill of the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland, retiring in 1952.

He was a former member of the Midland Methodist Church. Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Edna Collins of Youngstown.

Services will be at 1:30 p. m. at the Cannon Funeral Home in Midland, with the Rev. W. Stanton River officiating.

Burial will be in Forrest Lawn Memorial Park, Youngstown.

Friends may call Sunday afternoon and night at the funeral home.

2 Are Involved In Stabbing Case

Two persons identified as migrant farm workers received stab wounds early this morning following an argument, according to a report received from City Hospital here.

One of the individuals, Elizabeth Edwards, 37, of Yonges Island, S.C., was treated about 12:25 for lacerations to the chest and thigh inflicted with a razor, the report stated.

Leroy Clark, 44, of Shreveport, La., remains at the hospital in "fairly good" condition with a stab wound in the right side of the chest caused by a butcher knife. He was admitted about 3:40.

The two reportedly are workers at the Hillcrest farm in the Chester area.

cer giving chase. Boyd circled through the area, returned to the car and took off toward the Ohio-Pennsylvania line.

Hayes again pursued and radioed for help. Other police on the 4-to-midnight shift, commanded by Lt. C. E. (Bill) Tice, along with Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich of Ohioville and Midland officers responded.

Police said Boyd drove across the state line and then turned under the underpass at Smiths Ferry, abandoned the auto and again fled on foot. While officers were searching the area, Hayes received a tip that the suspect was on the river bank. He placed him in custody at 6:46 p. m.

Plans for a public dinner and a parade to observe Veterans Day on Nov. 11 were discussed by the Veterans City Council Friday night at City Hall.

Harold Wilson, formerly of East Liverpool and now a school official in Cuyahoga Falls, will be the principal speaker. He is the son of Mrs. Edwin Wilson of Oak St.

The dinner will be held at Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66 home on Ravine St. Harry Price is chairman of the dinner committee.

Following the dinner, a parade through the business district will be held at 8 p. m.

Invitations now are being mailed to organizations, but any group interested in participating may contact Council officers by Nov. 5, James Cregar, president, said.

The Council will hold a special meeting Oct. 29 at City Hall, he added.

The nation's approximately 600,000 dairy farms marketed 8.2 billion pounds more milk last year than 1 million farms did in 1959.

Lions Slate Chester Sale

Teams have been named by the Chester Lions Club for the annual house-to-house light bulb sale Monday night.

The sale will start at 6 p. m. Jerry D'Angelo, general chairman, said. Proceeds will be used for sight conservation projects.

The teams, with captains listed first include:

Team 1 — Donald Hood, Paul Milby, Anthony Tridico, Charles Mansfield, Marvin Snyder, James Wallace and J. M. Brand.

SALINEVILLE — Merrill Tice, 25, of 407 3rd St., Wellsville, was charged with driving while intoxicated by Police Chief Ray Keister after Tice was halted on Route 164 at 2 a. m. today. Tice, a Riverboat employee, is due a hearing Nov. 26 before Mayor Stanley Fitch.

Street Sealing Will Rest With Today's Weather

Because the street still was wet from Friday's rain, officials of the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. were waiting until this afternoon before deciding whether to apply a sealing compound along both curbs to complete the resurfacing of Route 39 through the East End.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodyre was notified that work of applying a 10-inch-wide coat of sealing material along the curbs from State St. to the Ohio - Pennsylvania line may be started this afternoon if weather permits.

If not, the work will be postponed until Monday, the Belmont County firm said.

If the work is delayed until the first of the week, Vodyre reminded motorists a parking ban on both sides of the street will be in effect for the entire length of the project.

Parking must be banned, the director said, so the sealing compound can be applied without gaps, he explained.

Bank Group To Meet On Wednesday Night

Norman Robertson an economist with the Mellon National Bank and Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, will speak at next Wednesday's meeting of the Youngstown Area Conference of the National Association for Bank Audit, Control and Operation.

Hopewell Girl, 16, Suffers Injury In Blast By Shotgun

Miss Marilyn Davis, 16, of Hopewell is in Pittsburgh Eye and Ear Hospital today for treatment of wounds to the face sustained in a shotgun blast late Friday night in Independence Township.

Miss Davis was treated at Allegheny Hospital for multiple wounds of the face, right eye, chest and right arm before being transferred to Pittsburgh.

Police are questioning James McClimans of Independence Township R.D. 2, who admitted discharging the 20-gauge shotgun from a hillside above three carloads of teen-agers on his 26-acre property. He said he fired the blast "to scare off the teen-agers."

The Davis girl and Miss Debbie Williams were in the back seat of a car driven by Robert Miller of Hopewell. Miss Williams was treated and released at Allegheny Hospital for wounds of the right side.

2 Stories Studied In Woman's Case

Police are continuing an investigation in an effort to unravel what happened to a 44-year-old city woman early this morning at Dresden Ave. and W. 7th St.

Mrs. Annabelle Haynam, 134 W. 4th St., told officers she was struck by a motorist who did not stop. But her story was disputed by a witness, who said she was either thrown or fell from the passing car.

Although she had no apparent injuries, Mrs. Haynam was admitted to City Hospital. She is in "fairly good" condition today.

Patrolman K. J. Montgomery, who took Mrs. Haynam to the hospital in a cruiser, said he was notified of the incident by Ralph Hicks of Wellsville.

Mrs. Haynam maintained she was struck by a passing blue and white auto, which did not halt. However, Ronald Springer, whose address was not listed, said she was thrown or fell from the 1957 blue and white car. He did not obtain the license number.

Springer said he carried Mrs. Haynam into a laundromat at the intersection while awaiting police.

Rabbi Sifts Arguments In Capital Punishment

Some of the arguments against capital punishment were advanced by Rabbi Sydney Hoffman of the Beth Salom congregation when he addressed the Lions Club on "Is The Death Penalty Justifiable" Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

The new rabbi discussed the religious and practical aspects of the controversial question and some of the inherent dangers in capital punishment.

"What should the religious motivation be? Should we seek vengeance or redemption," he asked.

HE POINTED out there are dozens of instances in the Old Testament concerning the death penalty, but it should be understood that people had just been released from slavery and leaders used the fear of death to motivate the people to obey the laws.

There seems to be a conflict between the Ten Commandments and another chapter referring to an "eye for an eye," but, Rabbi Hoffman said, "Jesus realized the difference between the commandments of God and man-made ordinances."

In early Babylonia, it was common to take many lives for one, but the code of Hammurabi established the principle that the punishment fit the crime.

However, it was a dual standard in which slaves were punished more severely than their owners for similar offenses.

But the concept has changed over the years until it now means that corrective action, not necessarily punishment, should fit the crime.

Looking at the practical aspect of whether the death penalty is desirable, Rabbi Hoffman pointed out some innocent men may have died for crimes they did not commit and also cited several instances of men who have served many years for murder only to be found to be innocent.

THERE ALSO is a question whether it is an effective deterrent, he continued, pointing out that statistics show the homicide rate in states without the death penalty is as low or lower than in states with capital punishment.

The first is that "it gives society a chance to get off the hook. It can condemn the criminal and then stand back in purity, instead of taking a good look and trying to create a climate to help the individual rather than destroy him."

It also sets a precedent for society to take away life. "What will stand in the way of society taking away the life of the seriously ill?" Rabbi Hoffman said it is not too far-fetched that society, facing an immense population boom, could decide to take away the life of the aged.

He was introduced by Ernest Lowe, program chairman. Donald T. Duke, president, presided.

Edward Custer, first vice president, reported on the light bulb sale which was held Monday through Wednesday.

DESIGN FOR CHARM

The art of the furniture designer like that of the architect is an index to the tastes and living patterns of the times. Even though new designs appear periodically, those that we place in the category of Early American remain relatively unchanged from decade to decade—and they are as much in demand as they were in former years. This, we believe, is a living tribute to the fact that Early American is truly good design. While it is true that modifications have crept in, the basic designs have been consistently preserved and none of the nostalgic charm and the homey quality has been sacrificed.

Comfort and simplicity keynote the Early American setting shown in the above sketch. White and natural wood tones have been used for background colors. Carpet of sandalwood, beige and blue ties in with the sofa colors. The mellow maple tones of brace-back chairs and spindle table are an important part of the room's color plan. Blue is repeated in several of the accessories.

In this room Early American design creates an atmosphere of warmth, friendliness and unpretentious charm.

A beautifully designed and well furnished room gives a lift and lift to all who see it. We invite you to come in and select your furniture from our large assortment of beautifully designed Early American pieces. Prices as always are commensurate with quality.

Equity Of Representation

No one knows which, if any, of the various proposals for reapportioning the General Assembly of Ohio will be chosen by the Federal District Court at Columbus.

If the court wanted to play it cagey, it might choose the plan causing the loudest squawks, on the safe assumption that one would be the most equitable.

No reapportionment plan can please everybody. Therefore, the one that displeased the most people might very well be the choice of the lot.

The court might even take features of several plans and combine them, in a quest for maximum equity. That is the sole purpose of the reapportionment ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court — equity of representation.

In the present Ohio House of Representatives, about 76 per cent of the members represent a little more than half the state's population scattered over 82 of Ohio's 88 counties. The other half is represented by less than one fourth of the representatives.

UNDER THE reapportionment plan drawn by the Ohio Apportionment Board, composed of Gov. Rhodes, Attorney General Saxbe and Secretary of State Brown, the other half would get half the representation. That would be equitable.

The board's plan shrinks the House of Representatives to 99 members and stabilizes the Senate at 33 members — three representatives in every Senate district — a fixed ratio.

To do this, many new districts would have to be carved out arbitrarily, to reach the proper population proportions.

That is what would cause the squawks.

Individuals and political parties would complain that they are being treated unfairly — and their complaints could be justified.

In other instances, however, individuals and parties would be full of joy because their prospects would be rosier than ever before. There wouldn't be a peep from them.

But no plan can please everybody.

IT HAS BEEN hard from the outset to remember that the sole purpose of reapportionment is numerical equity of representation, not of partisan representation. The purpose has been in conflict with the personal and partisan interests of politicians and political parties.

They have sounded sometimes as if they believed the whole complex system of representative democracy belonged to them. It belongs to the people they represent — no one else.

The obligation of the Federal District Court is to give it back to them, legislators having fallen down on the job not only in Ohio but generally throughout the nation.

An American 'Ombudsman'

An idea kicking around Congress without much attention for several years is certain to be given another look when Britain's Parliament approves legislation establishing an office of parliamentary commissioner for administration.

This is the British version of the Scandinavian "ombudsman," charged with investigating and pressing citizens' complaints against the government and public officials.

Measures to create an American ombudsman have been introduced. Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., and Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., are sponsors of measures pigeon-holed in committee.

This individual, in the language of Rep. Reuss, "shall review the case of any person who alleges that he believes he has been subjected to any improper penalty, or that he has been denied any right or benefit to which he is entitled under the laws . . . or that the determination or award of any such right or benefit has been . . . unreasonably delayed."

The ombudsman is a successful device for democratic government in Sweden, where it was established in 1809. It has spread to Finland in 1919, Japan in 1948, Denmark in 1955, Norway and New Zealand in 1962.

The British Labor government proposes an ombudsman with a special British complexion. He would be entirely independent of the government, but — and this point is important — the public would make it complaints through members of Parliament. "In Britain," the white paper explains, "Parliament is the place for ventilating the grievances of the citizen — by history, tradition, and past and present practice."

Most British papers welcomed the Ombudsman proposal.

In a welfare state, an ombudsman would have plenty of complaints, though nationalized industry would be off limits, along with local government, judicial proceedings and military and foreign affairs.

An American ombudsman would lighten the "casework" load of senators and representatives and still — by handling only complaints funneled through Capitol Hill — leave the flow of political power undisturbed.

Need An Appetizer?

Want to make your salivary glands tingle?

Coffee used to be ground in the kitchen in hand-powered coffee grinders, which released the aroma of the roasted beans as they were crushed. Kids in my generation used to beg for the right to do this, to sharpen their appetites. Fresh-ground coffee . . .

Kids in my generation were over-privileged when it came to sharpening appetites.

We stood by when apple butter was made in big iron pot suspended by a chain from a tripod that held it over a wood fire. The apples, cider, sugar and spices were dumped into the pot and stirred until ambrosia happened.

Women baked pumpkin pies and set them on window ledges to cool. A kid with no conscience could steal a fresh pumpkin pie, mosey back of a barn and ingest it while it was still warm.

If pilfering was no objection, he also could whiff the perfume of grape juice being made until he was frenzied with desire, then make off with a bottle of thick, sirupy home-made grape juice.

The aroma of fried mush and country sausage sputtering in an iron fry pan was free for the breathing every morning. It made getting up easy.

On mornings when it wasn't mush and sausage it would be scrapple, which smelled even better. Or possibly country-cured ham and fresh eggs, which smelled best of all.

Or for sinus openers, how about ginger cookies laid out row on row on a white linen cloth, to cool before being transferred to a cookie jar?

In cool basements under the solid houses they used to build were dirt-floored fruit cellars, where apples were stored in bins — all kinds, all tastes, all fragrant, all delicious, all crisp and cold.

How about parched corn, the way it used to be prepared for winter feasts — sweet corn soaked in fresh cream sweetened with brown sugar, then dried slowly over low heat until it was rubbery?

Has anything ever been better for taste buds than corn fritters festooned with blackstrap molasses?

What has civilization done that is nobler than home-made bread doughnuts washed down with sweet cider?

Not to mention fresh home-made bread lathered with sweet country butter and topped with home-made strawberry sunshine, which was home-grown strawberries cooked to the point of surrender over a slow fire, then spread out on platters in summer sunshine to settle into a sticky, sweet mess fit for the super-gods.

Or nut-brown waffles baked crisp enough to crackle, lubricated with dabs of butter and splashed with genuine maple sirup boiled down from the life blood of towering sugar maples in the sugar groves of northeastern Ohio.

Or corn fritters punctuated with slices of bacon whittled off a side that had been hanging in an eye-watering country smokehouse until transformed from lowly pig meat into something suitable for a sainted martyr's final repast.

Or to mention homegrown popcorn popped over an open fire in an old-time iron corn popper, then dumped into a huge bowl, salted and buttered to taste and eaten with dried apples and a pitcher of cold milk.

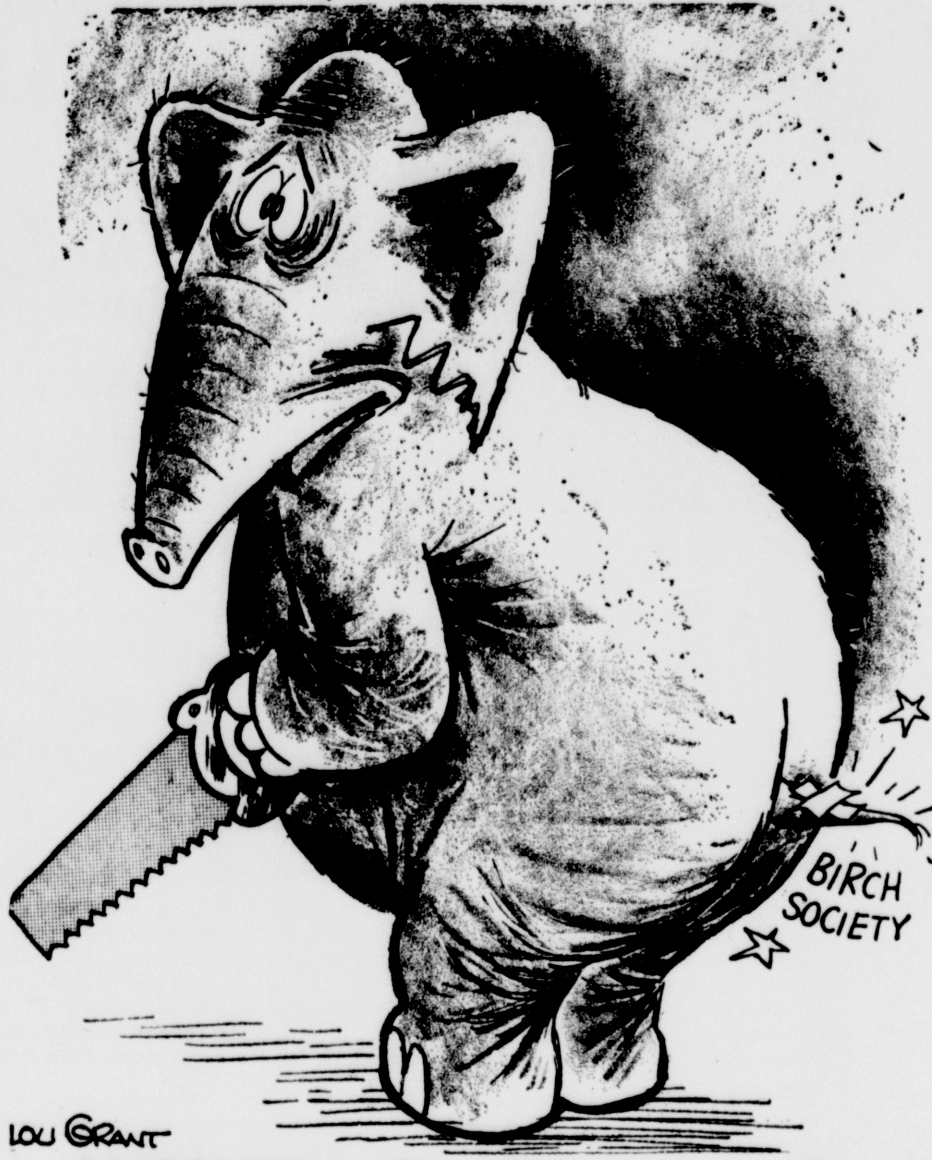

Anyone need an appetizer?

Odd Facts

The original Joe Miller, whose name is now synonymous with any old and well-worn joke, was a popular comedian in the early 1700's in London. About a year after his death in 1738, a book was published with a collection of witticisms which were given Joe Miller's name.

The most important crop in the United States, when considered according to acreage, is grass. There are more than a billion acres in hay and pasture in the average year as compared with 300 million acres in other leading crops.

'I May Have To Amputate'

KKK Plots For New Growth

By Victor Riesel

Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton, whose night-riding sorties and speeches are more lurid than his purple robes, has a dream and a nightmare.

In the miasma of his visions he sees tens of thousands of Klansmen openly united in the big cities and industrial centers of the South, giving the Ku Klux Klan a "respectability" and lucrative income it never can get from the ignorant, the uninhibited, the isolated wool hats, red necks and hillbillies of the rural communities.

If he survives the coming public hearings up Washington way, Shelton, a former rubber factory hand whose original colleagues came out of the big auto plants, will attempt to organize the KKK in the new industrial centers of the South.

One of his prime targets will be the huge auto manufacturing installations in and around Atlanta, where the Klansmen more than once have tried to pull a white hood over the gray dome of the capitol.

Victor Riesel

Not all the horror hoedowns have been held in the South. Let no one believe crosses have not been burned or rallies held in the industrialized North. There have been membership drives, meetings and burnings in one state or another ranging as far north as Wisconsin, as deep into the factory belt as Ohio and as far up along the Atlantic Coast as Delaware.

Shelton and such Kleagles as Calvin Craig, the crane operator who is Grand Dragon of the Georgia Ku Klux Klan, know their KKK outfits will be washed up after the House investigating committee finishes with them.

THOUGH THE COMMITTEE has had but two men actually operating in the South, the congressional group has on hand the reports from hundreds of FBI men (70 in Mississippi alone) and scores of informers who infiltrated right into the cadre level.

So the Wizard and Dragons are seeking a new operational base. This search, it is known, will lead them to the big cities such as Atlanta. They are aware that hundreds of auto workers at the big plants here are opposed to integration.

They know that members of one union at a Southern electronic plant actually contributed to the defense of a man charged with murder.

They have a list of unions in which the rank and file have broken with their national officials on the civil rights issue.

These are the men who will be sought out in the next year as the Sheltons attempt to shift their memberships from the rurals to the workers and businessmen of the big communities.

IF THE WIZARDS can attract enough for an operating base they'll go after Northern workmen. Their special target areas will be Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. Also the industrial areas of Kentucky and Virginia.

It's the hope of the investigators that the garish revelations during the public hearings will so disgust even the susceptible that the KKK will vanish as once it did when it went in for picnics and fish fries.

It's the hope of the investigators that the hearings will forever dim the glare of the burning cross, the moon's glint on the white hoods, the screeching roar of Klansmen's getaway cars.

And wipe out the Ku Klux Klan, once and for all.

British Viewpoint

By Raymond Moley

President Johnson's phrase, The Great Society, comes from the same era in British politics that teemed with the same sort of policies that have characterized his 1965 legislative program. The expression was lifted by LBJ or someone in his circle from a book by Graham Wallas, a Fabian socialist, published in 1914.

The Labor party socialists at that time envisioned schemes for government paternalism which have found realization in the world of LBJ. The difference is that our programs cost more money than the British radicals ever dreamed of having. It might be well for our President to spend some of his time while convalescing in reading how completely the British Laborites have graduated from their early illusions.

In several important respects the British party system is much better than ours. Both major parties over there give more attention than we do to efficient organization at the constituency level. Because of their annual party conferences, the intra-party differences can be compromised before they explode as they do at our quadrennial party conventions.

SUCH PARTY conference as have been held recently by Labor at Blackpool and by the Conservatives at Brighton serve to crystallize the issues and educate the voters well before they are called upon to vote in a general election.

It's a tight little United Kingdom, and political strategists can learn a lot more of the shifts in public opinion than we can. And this makes it possible to shape issues intelligently before an appeal to the electorate. Moreover, there is more homogeneity in the United Kingdom than in the United States.

It's curious that while they have recognized class distinctions as a matter of course, we have prated about our classless society and yet have been making all our political calculation on the basis of appealing not to a common interest but to minority groups and interests.

While the British newspaper pay far more attention to the polls than we do, the parties themselves have far more accurate ways of sounding the opinions of their voters. These party tests are not made public, but they guide the party manager and the party leaders in Parliament.

A YOUNG CONSERVATIVE member of the House of Commons who was in New York recently said that the response of British audiences in political rallies now is greatest when individual self-help and initiative are stressed. In earlier years, these audiences responded readily to promises of more government help and benefits.

This change is a sharp contrast to the response here to President Johnson's appeals for more government intervention in private affairs.

At the Labor party conference at Blackpool last month, Prime Minister Wilson neatly bypassed the radical left in his party and guided his party majority in a course of moderation and compromise with capitalism. In summing up, "The Economist" said, "The Old Left is dead."

On the issue of steel nationalization a compromise course was followed which would leave the owners in possession of the industry, with a minimum of government representation on boards of directors and only slight concession to the demands of the trade unions.

SEVERAL OF WILSON'S followers were openly critical of the management of the industries already nationalized. It is dawning upon many of the people who in earlier years strongly favored taking over the steel industry that such a course would require a lot of money to pay off the shareholders, money which the Exchequer can ill afford.

Veterans of the old Attlee Labor party would scarcely recognize the party as it is interpreted by Wilson.

Freedom's Victory

By David Lawrence

Right Of Individual Supported

Such word as filibuster and cloture and repeal of 14B may not mean much to the average man, so it can be simplified by noting that a victory has just been recorded for individual freedom — which is something everybody can understand.

It was not just a temporary victory, either, when the Senate voted 47 to 45 against taking up the bill which, if enacted, would have deprived the states of their right to forbid compulsory unionization and thereby making it the price of a job in America. There is, indeed, something of far more significance than the issue of whether an employer shall be coerced to do the bidding of a union in the hiring or firing of his employees. The real question that faces the country today is whether trade unions shall continue as a form of supergovernment which imposes a kind of tax on the individual worker and then does what it pleases with his money.

If the controversy was merely over the repeal of 14B—the section in the National Labor Relations Act which specifies that states shall have the power to pass their own right to work laws — there might be doubt that a delay of a few months would hurt the chances of taking up the measure in the next session of Congress. The problem now goes deeper. It centers on the issue of what shall be done about the monopoly power of labor unions themselves.

David Lawrence

THE RIGHT of a group workers, in a given industry to form a union of their craft is unquestioned, but, when they strike, have they any right to conspire with other unions to keep other employees from going to work? A dispute may have no relationship to the collective-bargaining objectives of another union but the practice has grown up that, when one union strikes, all other unions in the same plant are virtually compelled to join in the work stoppage.

Yet if an executive of one business in a given industry even lunches with an executive of another company in the same line of business and they talk over price, they can be sent to jail under the criminal provisions of the antitrust law.

The law of the land for decades have consistently barred monopoly on the part of business managers. Trade unions, however, have been exempt from the operation of such laws, though unions do fix wage costs throughout an industry and this has a direct effect on prices. Hardly a settlement after a strike in a major industry occurs that isn't followed immediately by discussions of price changes.

CONGRESS, however, has been indifferent to this and hasn't even proposed any law to abolish such monopolistic power by forbidding unions to conspire with each other to fix wage levels by a process known as industrywide bargaining.

What will happen next time? The labor union leader realize that the congressional election in November 1966 could have as a dominant issue the question of compulsory unionization. They know, too, that public opinion has been shifting and that, as a result of recent strikes, there has developed a public demand for some form of mediation or arbitration to be specified by government in the event that a settlement is not reached within a reasonable length of time.

Labor union leaders have been confident that the financial contributions made through their efforts in political campaigns all over the country would bring a majority in Congress to vote for repeal of 14B.

THEY WERE WRONG about the Senate, and it is not clear whether even in the House the majority which did vote for the bill was particularly enthusiastic about it and whether some representatives perhaps counted on the Senate to block the measure.

There will be some soul-searching done between now and the January session of Congress. The Johnson administration itself, which has been indebted to labor and sponsored the proposal to make compulsory unionization applicable in all states, may have some second thoughts when the issue comes up again.

The change in the attitude of the Senate, where union leaders thought they had a stable majority, is a victory for an informed public opinion throughout the country.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Local and area Ohio State alumni were "burning" over a remark by Gov. Martin L. Davey that most members of the football squad at the university were on the state payroll. The executive's later claim that too many had missed the humor in his statement failed to ease the situation.

The Rev. Ray L. Bolon, pastor of the First Christian Church, was named president of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Vibrations in the plumbing shook a home on Jefferson St. after pranksters had turned on a fire hydrant nearby. "Every water pipe in the house began shaking," the housewife told the water department.

More than 150 attended the annual picnic of the Midland Sportsmen's Club at the club farm north of Midland.

TEN YEARS AGO — Miss Mary H. Hall resigned as head librarian at Carnegie Public Library here after 39 years' service. Her letter to the Board of Trustees said she was leaving after "many happy years."

Atheism, Beatniks Bring Council Broad Challenge

This is another in a series of reports from the Vatican Council at Rome by Bishop John King Mussio of the Steubenville Diocese.

By BISHOP MUSSIO
The Council has been discussing the schema "The Church in the World of Today."

It is an important study of world conditions. As it looks into the dangers, difficulties, needs and practices of our time, it covers a lot of territory. To find precise and adequate answers for all the problems of today would take far more time than the commissions have the time, talent or energy to do.

The schema does give fundamental principles, which, if rightly applied, will help solve modern problems.

IT WILL take time and study long after the Council has closed to make definite application to definite situations.

This schema is not going to be a remedy for every ill. On the contrary, this study, and it is basically a study, will turn our minds and hearts in the right direction by impressing on us the fact that God's words are the most practical guide we have in life and that moral principles put into action are our hope for peace, stability and survival.

The treatment of atheism is rather general and the approach to the atheist is rather formal and stiff. This entire section of the schema lacks the warmth of Pope John's spirit. It also lacks an understanding of much that today goes under the name of atheism.

There are governments that profess atheism as a political doctrine. But the people under such regimes are revealing a deep religious spirit more and more. There is a philosophy today of existentialism that does not eliminate God, but gives God little influence in man's life. There are the so-called modernists who accept God's existence but consider the world too important to be blocked by divine decrees.

And what about the many people who live as though there is no God, only to turn to Him when all else fails?

ATHEISM covers a lot that is really not atheism. Often it is a withdrawal from God by those who believe God has withdrawn from them.

A person may look upon life as a freak chance, a cruel jest, a prison. He may look upon man as a trapped animal, a pawn in the hands of a grinning torturer, the fallout of a cosmic mistake, a hopeless misfit. I don't believe anyone wants this kind of philosophy of life, but to many it is all they have.

I don't believe the beatniks of Rome, dirty, long-haired, hungry looking and tired looking, are really contented. It is the only way they know to meet life on its own terms. They live life hopelessly because they have no goals except to live the moment as best possible. What good is it, they ask themselves, to aspire when nothing lasts? I wonder if their actions are not a rebuke to the church for failing to give them the direction they need; for not making God real and substantial in their lives.

PEOPLE want to be loved; they want to have purpose, dignity and something better to look forward to; they have the desire for God in their blood. If we fail to make God a reality to them, they will react as people who have been robbed of what is justly belonging to them.

It seems to me that the answer to atheism is not given exactly in the schema on the church in the world of today. The church must speak to man in a language he understands and give men what he needs most — the loving concern of a brother whose love is a reflection of eternal love.

Midland Pastor Marks His 35th Year In Ministry

The Rev. George H. Bohlender, pastor of the Midland Presbyterian Church, is observing his 35th anniversary this month as a Presbyterian minister.

He was ordained in October 1930 and assumed his duties at the First Presbyterian Church at Conneaut, Pa.

He is a graduate of Grove City College and the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago.

His second charge was the Third Presbyterian Church in Wheeling in March 1934, where he remained until he was called to active duty as a chaplain in World War II in 1942. He served until January 1946, including the South Pacific area, with the Ohio 37th Division.

He is the recipient of the Purple Heart and Oak Leaf Cluster.

He was former moderator of the Wheeling Presbytery and the former Old Beaver Presbytery, now the Beaver - Butler Presbytery, where he is serving as stated clerk.

Rev. Bohlender was one of the original directors of the former Beaver County Community Chest, now the United Fund, where he serves on the allocation committee. He is also a member of the Nelson Masonic Lodge of Wheeling, a member of the Beaver County Catholic Social Service and the Midland Human Relations Committee.

He is the son of Philip Bohlender of Grove City and the late Pearl C. Bohlender. His wife, the former Lorna Lithgow of Beaver Falls, is the daughter of John Lithgow and the late Mayme Lithgow.

Concert To Be Given By Cleveland Group

Earl Preston and his Gospel Choir of Cleveland will present a concert Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church of Midland.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carter and Mrs. Asalee Johnson are sponsoring the program.

Grace U.P. Gets Ready For Anniversary Event

Final arrangements are checked as the committee prepares for the 75th anniversary of the Grace United Presbyterian Church, which will be marked by several events next week.

Left to right are Laird Christen, Mrs. Charles Moore, the Rev. Edward John Phinn, pastor and general chairman, and Mrs. Norman Neal.

The diamond jubilee celebration will begin with a congregation dinner at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in the social rooms. Mrs. Neal and Mrs. Otis Doughty, assisted by wives of the members of the three church boards, are handling the dinner arrangements.

AN INFORMAL program of reminiscing will be featured, along with a display of old pictures and articles pertaining to the early congregation.

At the Sunday morning service Oct. 24, the Rev. George Jenkins of Carrollton, general presbyter, will be the speaker. Vocal selections will be presented by William Holden. A coffee hour will follow.

The Rev. H. Gene Toot, associate minister of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, will speak at the 7:30 p.m. service. Mrs. William Gibbs will be guest soloist.

The church was founded in 1890. Of the 80 charter members, Mrs. Anna Young of Pennsylvania Ave. is the only one now living. The original building was used as a mission under the guidance of the former First Presbyterian Church. The new building was dedicated March 21, 1909, and became known as the Second Presbyterian Church. Placed in the cornerstone were copies of The Morning Tribune, The Evening Review, a list of charter members, a history and picture of the church, a Holy Bible, a Presbyterian banner and Masonic records used in the dedication ceremony.

THE LONGEST pastorate of the church was that of the Rev. Frederick A. Dean, who served from 1921 until 1935. It was during his ministry that the manse was built.

The interior of the church was completely redecorated during the ministry of the Rev. J. Davis Barnard, who served from 1935 until 1940. During his pastorate, the Daily Vacation Bible School was inaugurated along with the use of Sunday morning bulletins.

During the pastorates of the Rev. Albert McLain and the Rev. C. Russell Owens, the basement was remodeled, providing additional classroom space, a new ceiling was installed and folding doors added.

A gas heating plant and redecoration of classrooms occurred during the ministry of Rev. Phinn, who was called to the pulpit in October 1960. Because of the merger of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America and the United Presbyterian Church of North America, it was necessary to choose another name as a Second United Presbyterian Church was in existence on St. George St. The Grace United Presbyterian Church was selected as the continuing title of the congregation.

IN THE anniversary booklet, being prepared by Christen, mention was made of the Rev. Kenneth Newell, minister of the church at Pierre, S.D., which he was sent to establish in 1963. A former resident of Globe St., he was graduated from the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary and ordained in 1952.

Women of the church assist in the support of the Rev. and Mrs. G. Chalmers Brown, working with the illiterate in their new assignment at Recife, Brazil.

The general committee for the event includes members of the session — J. W. Barrett, Thurman C. Bentley, John Craig, Leland Barr, Dr. W. J. Horger, Joseph Leonard, William C. Burson, Delmar Manning Jr. and Joseph Barrett.

Mrs. M. M. Horger, Mrs.

Edith Hilditch and Mrs. Moore are handling decorations and Christen and Mrs. Moore the advertising.

The anniversary booklet is being supervised by Christen, H. D. Brookman, Mrs. Thurman Bentley, Mrs. Cline Circle, Mrs. Clifford Conley and Mrs. Moore.

The reception committee is comprised of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Brookman, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Horger, Mrs. Clarissa Given, Mrs. Mabel Waggle, Mrs. Thurman Bentley, Mrs. Circle, Judge and Mrs. Raymond Buzzard, Dr. and Mrs. William Horger, Mrs. Delmar Manning, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barrett, Mrs. L. W. Hamilton and Mrs. Lillie Clemensen.

SERVING ON the hospitality committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Babb, L. W. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGrew, Mr. and Mrs. John Craig and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Johnston.

Music will be under the direction of Jerry Rose, choir director, and Mrs. Martha White, organist.

Invitations to many former local and out-of-town members have been mailed by Barrett, chairman of the invitation committee.

Churches Set 'Laymen Day'

"Layman's Sunday" will be observed tomorrow at the Oak Ridge Church, near Wellsville just south of Route 39, and at the Yellow Creek Church on Route 45.

The occasion is set aside each year to recognize the Christian laymen in Protestant churches throughout the U.S.

Morning services will feature a discussion, with two of the elders of the Yellow Creek Church participating.

Carl Payne of 1508 Clark Ave., Wellsville, will present questions and George A. Patterson of the Lisbon Rd., Wellsville, will supply the answers relative to the new proposed confession of faith. The subject is under study in all United Presbyterian churches and will be presented during a meeting in Boston next year.

Worship services will be held at Oak Ridge at 9:30 a.m. and at Yellow Creek at 11 a.m. following Sunday School.

Special music will be provided in both churches.

The Rev. James A. McCollam is the pastor.

Canada possesses about one-third of the world's fresh water, including 230,000 square miles of inland lakes and rivers.

Special Services Set At Church In LaCroft

Delmas Sanford, a member of the East Liverpool First Church of the Nazarene, will speak Sunday at 10:50 a.m. at the LaCroft Nazarene Church during Layman Day services.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Eades will preach at 7:30 p.m. during a special missionary program.

SANFORD HAS served as Sunday School superintendent at his church for the last 12 years, is a member of the church board, serves on the Rescue Mission board, the Salvation Army board and is a member of the Akron Nazarene District NYPS Council.

The Eades, missionaries to the Cape Verde Islands, are on furlough in the U.S., holding services at various Nazarene churches.

This is their third furlough since being assigned to the Cape Verde Islands in 1947 by the Department of World Missions, Church of the Nazarene.

During their first year of service they were involved with intensive language study. In 1948 they were sent to the island of Praia, where they were engaged in evangelistic and pastoral work. In 1950, they were transferred to the island of Brava, where they served until 1954, during which time Rev. Eades was constructing the church and doing evangelistic work. Since 1954 Rev. Eades has been the mission field treasurer and has maintained pastoral relations on the island of Praia. During this time he has overseen the construction of three churches, five chapels, two day schools and a printing shop.

THE MISSIONARY service will feature the work of the Church of the Nazarene in the Cape Verde Islands illustrated with colored slides where desired. There will be special music provided by Rev. and Mrs. Eades.

Rev. Eades was born in London, England. He attended the Emanuel Bible College in England for two years and the Missionary School of Medicine in London for one year. Prior to their assignment overseas, Rev. and Mrs. Eades pastored the Church of the Nazarene in Motherwell, Scotland, for four years.

Rev. and Mrs. Eades have one child, Margaret Anne, who will be attending Bethany Nazarene College at Bethany, Okla. The Eades will be making their home in Bethany during their furlough year.

Evangelistic Service Set At Local Church

An evangelistic service will be held Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Free Methodist Church at Avondale and Minerva Sts.

The sermon will be illustrated by "Scene-O-Felt" pictures. Special music will be presented.

A. R. Grafton, the minister, said the public is invited to attend.

YOU CAN

PURCHASE a beautiful family Monument for what it costs to mark the average non-monument cemetery plot with individual flat metal markers on a four or six grave lot. Let no one tell you differently. Experience the pride that comes in perpetuating the memory of your loved ones. Place them to rest in a traditional Monument cemetery, where you may erect an impressive family Memorial in their honor. Why not visit Graham and Wagner's showrooms, where you can shop comfortably indoors and in privacy? A courteous representative will gladly assist you in making your selection from the many beautifully designed Monuments created by our artists, who offer you this specialized service at no extra cost. If you live beyond a visit, we offer home counsel or transportation, no obligation, of course. If for reasons of economy or because of cemetery restrictions you may require a Bronze Marker, we carry a complete display in our showrooms. May we assist you in making your selection NOW, before the hard winter touches the cemetery? You have approximately four weeks weather permitting, in which to place the foundation. Have you forgotten someone!

Tri-State Trademarks

Symbols Of Area's Industries Represent Skills.
Investment, Quality In Markets Across World

By truck, train, boat or airplane the products of the Tri-State Area are carried across the nation and the world, identifiable in most cases only by trademarks or company symbols.

These symbols — whether pictures, designs or words or combinations of all — represent the craftsmanship, the labor and the investment of men and women and firms of this district to the rest of the people on earth.

Steel, pottery, machined goods, paper products, novelties, bricks and many other items from the Ohio Valley and its vicinity bear these trade marks or stamps, or are transported in boxes and listed on order forms and letters which have the company's own "signature."

The marks of today's industries and businesses are in most cases different from those of former years when styles were more ornate or complicated. They differ too from the crude scratches used on the early products of the English potteries or foundries or those of pioneer firms in this country.

TRADEMARKS have three basic purposes — to identify the origin and producer of the goods, to guarantee the quality of the product and to advertise the firm and its line.

Early craftsmen of the Middle Ages and their guilds began the use of special marks, and by the start of the 19th Century, trade marks had become so important, the British Parliament established known firms such as the Skirt Minnow Seine Manufacturing Co. of Chester or the P O W Awning, Tarpaulin & Tent Co. of East Liverpool.

BACK STAMPS of ware produced by the Hall China Co. or the Taylor, Smith &

Taylor Co. pottery are well known to district residents.

But the trademarks of other area companies which do not produce consumer items are less familiar, such as the eagle perched on a sewer pipe of the American Vittrified Products Co. or the stylized Pi of the Patterson Industries.

Besides the trademarks registered with the U. S. Patent Office, many are filed with each state. Ohio, for example, recently registered its 5,000th trademark—the name of "Farm Treat" for the Albrecht Grocery Co. of Akron.

The name of a firm often lends itself to an easily identified symbol, such as the bell incorporated in Bell Research or the sea shell employed by Pearl China.

Others are more difficult. But all are distinct emblems of their firms, representing the character of the company, the skill of its workers and the quality of the product across the world.

Review Staff Member

The fish which will inhabit Highlandtown Lake when it is completed will be able to live in man-made shelters.

The artificial shelters, intended to compare with natural shelters of rocks, boulders and ledges, have been created in the barren area that is to be the bottom of the lake near Highlandtown off Route 39.

These shelters are the result of the diligent work by two Ohio Fish Management employees.

Paul Jakubowski of Salineville and Kenneth Hepler, who resides on the Highlandtown Game Reserve, have built several zigzag-shaped shelters by utilizing tile pipe obtained from the Kaul Clay Co. at Toronto.

To date, they have used more than 1,200 tile, ranging in size from 3 to 32 inches.

The two decided to build the needed fish habitat after the area was cleared for construction of the lake. Although not directed to do the work, they obtained permission and went ahead with the project.

The pipe—"seconds" discarded on the scrap pile—was given them by the company, but they had to load and unload it by hand. It took them about two months to haul all that was needed.

BOTH ARE FISH production foremen and are interested in creating good fishing in the lake. Some old car bodies also may be utilized, along with cut trees to provide fish shelters. The larger pipe will provide "hiding places" for catfish.

The smaller pipe are laid in zigzag fashion, similar to rip-rap, at various places for distances of about 50 feet. These shelters are expected to provide breeding places for bass, and concentrate the fish in the areas after the water covers the site.

Construction on the 170-acre lake was started in June, and the water will be impounded next summer if construction proceeds as planned.

The core of the earthen dam should be completed in another month. Stone will be placed on the one face of the dam and the outside will be covered with grass. Officials I have talked with tell me it probably will be about three years before the water reaches the desired level. It will be about 35 feet deep at the dam.

Fish management personnel urge, as I suggested previously that fishermen observe the lake bed before it is covered with water.

A rough map of the area can be drawn and marked with the places where the natural and artificial fish shelters are located. It could prove very helpful on future fishing trips to the lake. Knowing where to fish is a very important factor for continued success.

THE PRESENT LAKE on the game reserve will be maintained as it is now. No changes are planned because the new lake will not quite reach the dam of the small lake. Many people believed the lake would be covered by the new one.

Stocking of the Highlandtown Lake probably will begin next summer when the lake starts filling.

THE WEATHER THE PAST week has been poor for hunting or fishing, but the overall picture looks good. Fish still are biting in the creeks and lakes and hunters are getting a fair share of squirrels.

I still haven't shot my first squirrel this season. The last time I was out, my eldest son, Jeff, shot at one but missed it. He saw another. I didn't even see one.

I also had my youngest son, Daniel, with me. He was carrying an air rifle and I was very anxious for him to at least see one. I was explaining to him the various types of nut trees favored by squirrels, showing him the cuttings on the ground. I also told him to watch where he was walking and move quietly through the woods.

Keeping him a few feet behind me, I turned once to see how he was doing. I think he has been watching too much television for he was sneaking along like Daniel Boone looking for Indians.

AFTER HUNTING ONE area, I suggested to a friend that he check a nearby grove of oak trees while my son and I looked over some hickory trees in another direction. Guess who shot the squirrel? My friend of course!

All in all, it was great fun giving a youngster a hunting lesson. You fellows should try it sometime. This way you can teach them the safe and sane method.

You wouldn't hand a child a lighter stick of dynamite and tell him to go play with it, but giving a boy a gun and telling him to go shoot is practically the same thing.

DAN ARMBRUSTER, chief of the Ohio Division of Wildlife, just caught his first muskellunge recently while fishing on Dillon Reservoir in Muskingum County. It measured 22 inches long and weighed 3 pounds, 8 ounces.

Test netting of Zeppernick Lake will be done within the next week or two. Fish management men say they get better results from the fall testing than tests made in the spring or during the summer. It should be interesting to see the size of some of the bass in Zeppernick.

Berlin Reservoir in Mahoning County is providing some large size walleyes for the fisherman hardy enough to go after them. The suggested bait is a June Bug Spinner with a live night crawler attached and trolled rather fast in the deep water.

Dress for warmth if you go out these days. The wind can be mighty chilling while sitting in an open boat on the water.

Squirrel season opened today in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

The bow and arrow season on black bear and deer opened today in West Virginia and continues through Dec. 31. The firearms season for bear is from Nov. 1-13 and Dec. 20-25 in nine counties and part of another. Check your hunting and trapping regulations to determine where you can hunt.

By the time you read this I should be in the mountain country of Pennsylvania in the vicinity of Williamsport. I don't plan on doing any hunting, except with a camera.

I just want to enjoy the foliage, spot a few deer—which I understand are plentiful in this particular area—and take a ride in a vehicle called a "mountain car."

From what I have been told, this is quite a thrill.

Setting up fish shelters for future use in the Highlandtown Lake are Ralph Drake, new Columbiana County game protector, and Paul Jakubowski, fish production foreman in the Berlin area.

You And The Law

Bob and Rob operated a medium-sized restaurant on the edge of Centertown. They did a very profitable business and had built a good reputation over the past 20 years.

Claude, the owner of the building and property was happy, too. Bob and Rob are good tenants, he always said. They had a good business and he never worried about the rent money.

ONE DAY, however, the highway department informed Claude that they had decided to relocate the road in front of the restaurant. In fact, once the road was relocated there wouldn't be any restaurant. The centerline would go right through the kitchen.

Claude was offered a good price for the property, which he took and then served an eviction notice on Bob and Rob. The property lease stated that if the property was taken by the state under right of eminent domain, the lease could be ended. Needless to say, the cooks didn't want their broth spoiled.

"O.K., we'll leave," Bob and Rob said, "but we want some of the money the highway department gave you for the property. As longtime tenants with a considerable time to go on the lease, we're entitled to some compensation. Our customers will be unhappy about having to go elsewhere for our food."

COULD THE two now unhappy cooks collect some of the money?

No, according to a recent ruling of the Ohio Supreme Court. The court held that where the lease permitted termination of the tenancy agreement if the premises were taken by the right of eminent domain, the tenant was not entitled to share in the money paid by the highway department for the property, the court said.

And, when he has no rights, he is not entitled to share in the money paid by the highway department for the property, the court said.

Looking for a different salad to go with a buffet luncheon? Try this suggestion from Mrs. Robert Futhy of St. Clair Ave.

YUM YUM SALAD

- 1 large can of crushed pineapple
  - 1 cup chopped celery
  - 1 cup chopped pecans
  - 2 small packages Philadelphia cream cheese
  - 1 cup cream, whipped
  - 1 small can pimientos
  - 1 box lemon Jello
- Drain juice from pineapple and heat to boiling point. Add to Jello. Cool until mixture begins to set, then add pineapple, celery and pecans.
- Mash pimientos into cheese and add to first mixture.
- Add whipped cream, put salad into a shallow pan or dish and place in refrigerator until firm.

This may be made the day before using.

If you have a favorite recipe you would like to share with others, mail it with your name, address and telephone number to Feature Editor, in care of The Review.

1,500,000 Meals Served

By BYRON EELLS

The busiest restaurant in town?

Without argument it must be the cafeteria at Westgate School which makes it appropriate for this has been National School Lunch Week.

Roughly 1,500,000 youngsters have gulped down nutritious meals since the school was opened in the fall of 1956. Nearly 1,000 youngsters are fed daily in the cafeteria staffed by eight cooks with Mrs. Helen Trotter as manager and Mrs. Beulah Malkin as assistant.

A happy smile on his face, Steve Weigand, a fourth grade pupil and son of Mr. and Mrs. Knute R. Weigand of 1866 Dresden Ave. Ext., bites into a pizza as Mrs. Malkin, left, and Mrs. Trotter watch.

For 30 cents, youngsters are served what the state terms as a "Type A" lunch, including two ounces of proteins, Vitamins A and C and a half pint of milk daily.

THE STAFF BEGINS preparing the meal about 7:30 a.m. before the first youngsters report to the school, and the cafeteria line forms at 11 a.m.

The last pupil passes through about 12:40 p.m., making an average of about 10 youngsters served each minute.

Preparation of the meal is not a casual thing — a mother of two children just has to think of preparing about 500 times as much. "Country baked steak" — another name for hamburger with gravy over it — requires about 155 pounds of ground meat.

Another favorite, chili, requires between 100 and 130 pounds of hamburger, 20 gallons of tomatoes and 20 gallons of kidney beans. Try that on your kitchen stove!

Despite the large amounts, there is little waste. Experience and good management have taught the cafeteria staff to judge the quantities required.

SOME FOOD supplies are purchased while other items come from surplus commodities such as dry milk, cheese, peanut butter, apricots, prunes, cherries, peas, corn, flour, rolled wheat, cornmeal and rice.

In the past years, ground beef, chickens and turkeys have been received from surplus. All meat has been purchased this year, but cafeteria workers expect a supply of meat next month.

Last year the school even received roast beef and about three years ago, canned pork was on the list. However, state officials have advised the cooks there will be no roast beef this year.

The cafeteria at Westgate is the only one in operation in the system. Under the present building program, cafeterias will be equipped in the three new elementary buildings and in the senior high school.

The East End elementary cafeteria will serve both the elementary and East Junior High students.

The Lighter Side

For a decade now, the sociologists and the government double-domes have been wringing their hands in anticipation of a thousand kinds of new mischief Americans would dream up, what with all the leisure time thrust upon them by the shorter work week and the long vacation.

But where is it—the leisure time, that is? Mischief there may be, but little of it can be attributed to boredom.

In fact a whole new segment of the population has found a career in working out new shortcuts, ways of reducing the time required in workaday activities. For a population that allegedly has too much time on its hands already, the American is getting a lot of unsought help in saving even more time.

IT ALL BEGAN when some unsung genius discovered there was a rich potential market for so-called labor-saving devices the housewife would buy. Millions of hours have been "saved" every week since the old sad iron went through a series of mutations that produced the streamlined, automated marvel of today.

The automatic washer and dryer have saved even more millions of hours. And where have they gone? The American housewife of today considers herself far busier than her counterpart of a few generations ago.

But the effort to "save" more time continues every day. Whole battalions of researchers have devoted their lives to the task. It's good merchandising, no doubt, to tell a housewife your product will finish for her in two minutes a task that formerly required two hours.

Perhaps the last word in "saved" time is the international jet set, a new breed of idle rich that manages to breakfast on the Riviera, consume a dozen cocktails on an airliner between Rome and New York and have a late dinner at the Stork Club. That's time-saving with a vengeance. But it epitomizes the general trend—save time even when you have nothing constructive to do with it.

INSTANT COFFEE WAS one of the forerunners in today's trend toward time saving for the sake of time saving. Half the population of the U.S. must brew its coffee without benefit of a percolator or dripolator or even an old-fashioned pot.

Then came instant tea, winter and summer. Housewives are on the verge of forgetting the art of squeezing an orange or a lemon. The juice is there on the super-market shelf or in a freezer, ready to be squirted out of a plastic container or coaxed out of a can by defrosting.

The words "instant" "speedy" and "one minute" precede names of a whole host of products and business places.

Television and radio receivers are "instant on," thanks to transistor circuits that do not require the warmup of conventional vacuum tubes. Nobody has found yet what the householder does with the 30 seconds he saves with the transistor device, compared with the conventional receiver! But "instant on" still is a good selling point.

THERE ARE ONE-HOUR dry cleaning shops and paints which dry in a matter of an hour or so.

Cameras have been devised which produce a finished print in one minute. First it was black and white, but now they turn out the speedy pictures in colors.

The healing art has fallen into step. Miracle drugs now cure in minutes or hours some of the diseases that once required days or weeks of hospitalization. A broken leg once meant up to six weeks of blissful immobility, but that rest for the harried now is being pushed into the dim past. With a walking cast, the anxious wage-earner can go back to his job in the widget factory almost before the plaster of paris cast is dry.

Messages once sent via Uncle Sam's respectable old surface mail system now wing their way along the wires via telegraph or telephone. At the best, a hurried business message goes air mail, special delivery, even if it's only an invitation to a sales meeting.

Telephone calls go almost instantaneously from coast-to-coast, thanks to direct dialing, so that one no longer gets to hear the pleasant deep south accent of an operator in New Orleans or the nasal tone of her counterpart in Walla Walla.

CLEANING AND WAXING the family car once was an all-day job, even when Junior was impressed into involuntary service to help, but now the miracle makers have devised compounds that promise to clean, wax and shine the finish all in one operation—and maybe increase the gas mileage or recap the tires as a bonus.

More and more products are pre-fabricated, pre-cut, pre-painted, pre-cooked, perhaps even pre-digested.

A generation or so ago, an enterprising breakfast food manufacturer devised a product that could be cooked in three minutes. But that's all old hat now. Either it cooks in one minute flat or it's obsolete.

But husbands—harried by wives enrolling in ceramics classes, painting landscapes, refinishing antiques and working on committees—might add a fervent prayer that the time-saver's package add some small print admonishing: "Time-saving is not a project to be entered into lightly; consult your neighborhood psychiatrist!"

Spurred on by automation and computer, the time-saving industry is rushing forward every day, perhaps into a vacuum, but it rushes forward.

Tally ho!

Stamps In The News

The 5-cent U.S. commemorative stamp honoring Adlai Stevenson will be issued Oct. 23 with special ceremonies in Bloomington, Ill., where the former Ambassador of the United Nations grew up and is buried.

The vertical stamp is composed of two interlocking rectangles, blue and black against a white background. Inset in the blue rectangle to the left is the U.N. wreath in white. The black rectangle contains a Stevenson portrait based on a photograph by Philippe Halsman of New York.

Beneath the portrait are red, white and blue bars. The stamp was designed by George Samerjan of New York who in 1959 designed the Arctic Explorations commemorative.

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Bloomington, Ill. 61701. Requests must be received prior to Oct. 23.

THE 1966 EDITION of the New World Wide Stamp Catalog by Minkus Publications is in two volumes. It lists prices of every stamp ever issued including nearly 5,000 new stamps of late 1964 and the first half of 1965.

The latest U.S. stamp is the Florida Quadricentennial commemorative of Aug. 28. Volume I with 1,470 pages, contains all of the Americas, Great Britain, United Nations and the independent nations of Asia and Africa. Volume II with 1,480 pages, lists all of Europe and colonies.

The new edition contains over 100,000 price changes. Both volumes may be purchased for $15.90. Individual volumes for $7.95 each at your local dealer.

TWO COUNTRIES have announced the issuance of stamps honoring "Europa," sponsored by the European Conference of Postal and Telecommunications. The Republic of West Germany issued two, a 15 pfennig green and a 20 pfennig red, with same design — a twig with three leaves bearing fruit.

Ireland has issued two, 8 pence and 1 shilling 5 pence. The common "Europa" design appears. Collectors wishing first-day covers of the Irish stamps may write to Irish Cachet Covers, 947 E. 32nd St., Brooklyn, N. Y. 11210. Cost of complete set on cover is $1.

Judge Jails, Fines Driver

A New Waterford man was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail by County Judge Herbert Arman at East Palestine Thursday. Ten motorists were penalized.

Harold H. Morrison of New Waterford R.D. was fined and jailed on the drunken driving charge.

Fined $5 and costs each for speeding were Harry Woolmaker of 5th Ave., Paul Welch of New Waterford R.D. 1 and Rance Brickner of Lisbon R.D. 1.

Victor Hauenstein of Negley was fined $20 and costs for speeding, and Robert Byne of 7th Ave., LaCroft, forfeited a $15 bond for speeding.

William R. Hall of 1617 Pennsylvania Ave. was fined $10 and costs for crossing a yellow line. Richard Brand of 211 6th Ave. was fined $15 and costs for failure to stop in the assured clear distance, and Jan Burke of 943 Princeton Ave. was fined $5 and costs for driving left of center.

Report Given On Projects

A project report was heard when the executive board of the City Federation of Women's Clubs met Wednesday night at the YMCA.

Mrs. Faye Wright, chairman of the town improvement committee, announced plans have been completed for the erection of 25 new street signs for St. Clair Ave. She also reported checks for $250 each have been turned over to the Patterson Field Improvement Fund and for the Thompson Park band shell.

A letter was read from Miss Mary Lou Curran, the student who received the group's contribution to the Citizens Scholarship Foundation. She is a member of the senior class at the Ohio Northern School of Pharmacy.

Plans were made for the annual fall session Oct. 27 at Mary Patterson Memorial when Mrs. R. J. Kulow of Hubbard will be guest speaker. Reservations must be in with Mrs. Myer Alpern and Mrs. John McDonald Jr. by Oct. 25.

Mrs. Donald E. Wolfe, president, presided. Miss Betty Buben, secretary, announced 20 were present representing 19 city clubs.

Lisbon Woman Fined In Case At Laundry

LISBON — A Lisbon woman was fined $25 in mayor's court this week on a charge of stealing laundry from a local automatic laundry.

The defendant, Charlotte Short of 132½ E. Lincoln Way, pleaded not guilty before Mayor Dean Stockman. Sheets and clothing were taken from a washer at Bill's Laundry at E. Washington St. here.

The complainant, George Berdine of E. Washington St., told police he put clothes and bedding in the washer, left and returned later to find the items missing. He placed a value of $35 on the goods.

DEMOCRAT LEADER NAMED. David L. Graham of Weirton, right, receives a certificate of appointment as northern director of the Young Democrat Clubs of West Virginia from State Sen. C. Dick Montgomery. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Graham of Chester, attended West Liberty State College and West Virginia University. He is a veteran of the 101st Airborne Division and has been active with young Democrats throughout the state.

12 Are Treated At Hospital Following Various Injuries

A man injured in a fall over an embankment and a small boy bitten on the nose by a dog were in "fair" condition today at City Hospital, where 10 district residents were treated Friday and released.

Lawrence Railing of 700 Cadmus St. suffered a possible back injury and abrasions of the left knee and hand in a fall over an embankment last night.

Paul Duncan, 2, son of Frank Duncan of 654 Minerva St. received a severe laceration of the nose when he was bitten by a dog.

Eric Zipperian of 213 Ravine St. was treated for a severe laceration of a finger after it became caught in a tractor.

Mrs. Cynthia Kiger of 310 Grant St., Newell, suffered bruises of the left arm in a fall.

In a fall while playing football, David Albanese, son of Joseph Albanese of 851 W. 8th St., received a fractured left middle finger.

Michael Karcher, son of Charles Karcher of 2305 St. Clair Ave., suffered a cut on the right elbow while playing football.

Also hurt playing football were Wayne Christen, son of Martin Christen of the Y. & O. Rd., who received a shoulder injury, and Jeffrey Halpate, son of Rudy Halpate of 414 Walnut St., who suffered a bruised left hand.

In a fall from a bicycle, Lawrence Degarmo, son of Ethel Degarmo of 319 Broadway, received a cut on the right elbow.

Charles Sanfilippo, son of Charles Sanfilippo of 1708 Clark Ave., Wellsville, received a cut on the eye in a fall from his playpen.

Beth Rowley, daughter of Joseph Rowley of Oakmont, was examined after it was believed she may have drunk lighter fluid from a container with which she was playing.

Navy Recruiter Among Those At Kent School Here

Among the students at the new Kent State University Academic Center here is a 40-year-old Navy recruiter, the only Pittsburgh area Navy recruiting service personnel attending college under the Navy tuition program.

Yeoman IC Wayne A. Robb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Robb of 1029 Huston Ave., is working toward a bachelor of science degree. A graduate of East Liverpool High School, he has served 18½ years in the Navy.

Robb, a recruiter at Pittsburgh, served in the Pacific in World War II and holds 11 medals and awards, including the Asiatic-Pacific Campaign Medal with 9 combat stars, the Korean Service Medal with 3 combat stars, and the Philippine Liberation Medal.

He plans to retire soon from the Navy and study full time.

Drinking water must contain less than 0.05 per cent salt and minerals to be drinkable, according to standards of the U.S. Public Health Service.

Wheeling Steel Signs With USW On 3-Year Pact

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — Wheeling Steel Corp. joined the big 10 steelmakers Friday in signing a new three-year labor agreement with the United Steelworkers Union.

A joint union-management announcement said the contract covering 11,000 Wheeling Steel workers, is almost identical to the pact signed Sept. 6 by the Big 10 after nudging from the White House.

The announcement said the agreement provides for about 47.3 cents an hour increases in wages and fringe benefits through Aug. 1, 1968.

In a move to avoid a possible strike, Wheeling Steel withdrew from the Big 11 last April. The company agreed with local USW officials to approve whatever benefits resulted from the Big 10 talks, retroactive to the previous contract's expiration date.

East End Driver Cited In Skidding Accident

A 22-year-old East End man was cited by police Friday night after his auto skidded into a parked auto in the West End.

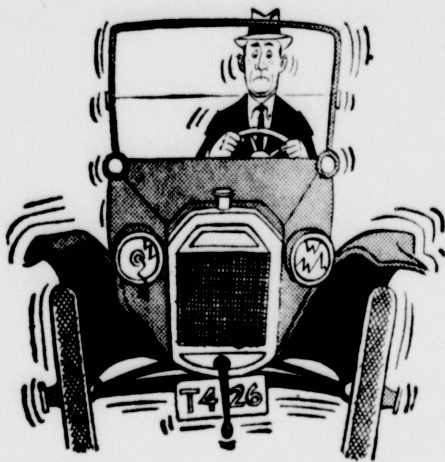

Roger L. Gearin, 1631 Park Ave., was accused of driving without an operator's license after the mishap at 6:41 p. m.

Gearin told officers he rounded a bend too fast and slid on the muddy street into the parked 1960 auto of Joyce Ruble, 871 W. 8th St. The woman witnessed the accident, police said.

Home Visitor Aids 12 County Retarded Children, Families

Twelve Columbiana County retarded children are receiving special assistance under the recently launched home visitor program of the Columbiana County Welfare Department's Retarded Children's School.

Mrs. Mildred Ashbridge of East Palestine is serving as the home visitor for the school located at Elkton.

In 81 of Ohio's 88 counties there are about 5,000 children of I.Q.'s of 50 and below attending 450 classes for educational training. Of these, 25 counties have full or part-time home visitor service.

Helping prepare retarded children to attend the school is a major part of Mrs. Ashbridge's job.

"Parents, especially mothers, feel guilty about their retarded children; they feel somehow to blame, and it helps them to discuss their problems and feelings with a home visitor," Mrs. Ashbridge said.

She said the parents also receive positive ideas about developing their child's strengths rather than dwelling by themselves on the weaknesses.

Another part of her task is to improve the mental health of the family. In some cases, it is found the child can best be cared for in an institution or boarding home, and taking her cue from the family or physician, she helps the parents make the arrangements.

Mental retardation often brings related problems of speech and hearing difficulties and social and psychological maladjustments. The home visitor has the knowledge of the people and agencies which can aid the child and parents.

The home visitor program provides training for young children who have not reached the developmental age of 3, or older children not eligible for training classes or for whom such classes are not available. The number of visits is determined by the amount and type of training required by the child.

Mrs. Ashbridge is a graduate of Metropolitan General Hospital at Cleveland. She also attended Western Reserve University and currently is attending Youngstown University, majoring in nursing and special education.

She was a teacher at the retarded school last year and was school nurse at Lisbon for eight years. She is married to John Ashbridge of Britain Motors, East Palestine. They have three sons — one a state highway patrolman, one a graduate of Youngstown University and a third attending Mt. Union College.

U.S. Business Told To Keep Lid On Prices

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — Business leaders had the word today from the Johnson administration — keep a lid on prices to head off the possibility of inflation.

But those attending the semi-annual meeting of the Business Council predict a rise in prices in 1966 along with a general rise in the economy. Privately, the businessmen still see the shadow of inflation across the future.

In an address Friday night to the council, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey asked the business leaders "to exercise the utmost judgment so that we may all avoid the danger which could wipe out the gains we have made — I mean the danger of inflation."

"Particularly," Humphrey added, "I would hope that price stability could be maintained — price stability to keep us competitive in world markets, to help us in our balance of payments, to protect purchasing power of fixed dollar earnings, retirement benefits and insurance payments."

The vice president said the administration sees no present likelihood that expenditures will rise enough because of the Viet Nam war to bring a threat of inflation.

"If they did," he declared, "President Johnson would take appropriate fiscal and financial Council members have cited the Viet Nam struggle as a prime source of inflationary pressures. They contend war expenditures will pump billions of dollars into the economy at the same time they create extra competition for labor and commodity supplies.

Some of the Business Council members indicated emphatically they do not want strict guidelines on overseas investment.

Boyce Renamed To Church Office

David G. Boyce of 1010 Neptune Ave., Chester, has been renamed a trustee by the North East Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church.

The announcement was made today at Alliance during the meeting of the Board of Trustees of Mount Union College as part of the annual homecoming activities.

President of the Harker China Co., Boyce has been a trustee since 1946 and has served as chairman of the budget committee and a member of the finance committee.

It was announced during the trustees' meeting that the budget has more than tripled and enrollment increased by 62 percent in the last 11 years at the College.

The budget for 1964-65 was $2,609,187. This fall's enrollment was 1,203.

Inspection Planned At County's Garage

The Columbiana County garage at Leetonia will be inspected next Thursday in conjunction with the annual equipment check in the seven counties of Division 11 of the Ohio Highway Department.

Officials from the department's Columbus office and from the division office at New Philadelphia will make the check to assure that equipment will be in top operating condition for the winter months.

The Jefferson County garage will be inspected the same day.

145 Attend Lisbon Banquet; 50 Take Part In Rally Held By Democrats

LISBON — One hundred forty-five fathers and sons of the First Presbyterian Church attended the annual banquet in their honor Wednesday night at the church. It was prepared and served by women of the church.

The Rev. Paul T. Gerrard served as master of ceremonies. Special recognition was given to Lyman Goodballet, 87, father of Edwin Goodballet, as the oldest father present; Greg Weinstock, the youngest father, and Andrew J. Hartman, aged 17 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hartman, the youngest son present.

Fred Rose, Jack Beck and Robert Kelm each were accompanied by their four sons and there were 15 fathers with three sons present.

A film, "Rogers Pass," a story of the Canadian Rockies, was presented by Charles J. Yoo, program chairman. A. H. Timmerman was the projectionist.

Baking Is Program Theme

Gamma Zeta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority met Thursday night at the Salem office of the Columbia Gas Co. with Mrs. James Kennedy, president, presiding.

The budget was accepted and a donation of $5 was approved for the Center Township United Fund.

"The Art of Baking" was the program theme presented by Miss Betty Newton, home economist of the gas company. She demonstrated and served a "Christmas is A-Comin'" buffet lunch. Miss Newton was introduced by Mrs. Willis Coleman, program chairman.

The annual guest night will be held at the home of Mrs. Felix Rutecki Jr. of Columbiana Rd. Oct. 28.

The Winona chapter will be the guest chapter. Miss Nancy Shattuck, Mrs. Rella Gorcheff, Mrs. Richard LeFebvre and Mrs. Rutecki are members of the social committee in charge of arrangements.

"The Art of Decoration," presented by Mrs. Charles Hoffman and Mrs. Jack Beck, will be the program theme for the next regular meeting Nov. 11 at the home of Mrs. Richard Strabley of W. Lincoln Way, with Mrs. Oliver Payne and Mrs. Herman Hale co-hostesses.

Annual Membership Tea Held — The annual membership tea was held Thursday night by the Lewis Kinney Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution at Thompson Hall, with Miss Jean Van Fossan and Mrs. Elaine Hurd serving as hostesses.

Max Gard, historian, was guest speaker. He discussed the Sandy and Beaver Canal and the early history of Lisbon and Columbiana County. Honoring the 75th anniversary of the DAR, a large cake decorated with red, white and blue and baked by Mrs. Howard Crosser, centered the tea table, with fall flowers in array about the home. Mrs. Richard Andrus, regent, and Mrs. Robert A. Williams, vice regent, presided at the tea table. Mrs. Crosser, Mrs. G. C. Fuhrman and Mrs. R. V. Parry were the social committee in charge of arrangements.

The next meeting will be Nov. 11 at the home of Mrs. Williams of the Roller Coaster Rd. Plans Set For Sunday Trip — Twenty-eight members of Pride of Center Council 190, Daughters of America, attended the regular meeting Thursday night, with Mrs. Elizabeth Polite, councilor, presiding and Mrs. Nannie Meehan, Mrs. Thelma Hill, Mrs. Ollie Carnes and Mrs. Lela Stock serving as hostesses.

Plans were completed for the council's chartered bus trip to the Daughters of America home at Tiffin Sunday. The bus will leave the Square at 9:30 a. m. Twenty reservations have been made for the trip.

Prizes for cards and games were awarded Mrs. Virginia Williams, Miss Virginia Rabalio, Mrs. Agnes Gray and Miss Laura McKee.

Members of the council will serve the Rotary dinner Tuesday night and the Kiwanis luncheon Thursday noon. The next regular meeting will be Thursday at 7:30.

Lisbon Personals

Three members of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Mrs. Eugene McLaughlin, Mrs. Frank Admonitis and Mrs. Cornelia Monda, attended the fall meeting of the Youngstown Region Thursday at St. Luke's Episcopal Church of Niles. There were 75 members of the region present.

Club Has Meeting In Elkton Area

Mrs. Ralph Moore, Mrs. Hazel Lee and Mrs. Bruce Sullivan won prizes for 500 when the Jolly Eight Club met Wednesday night with Mrs. Sidney Scroggs of near Elkton. The next meeting will be with Mrs. John Strudthoff of Lisbon.

Mrs. Lois Swaney was hostess to her 500 club Wednesday when Mrs. Clifford Ward, Mrs. Lucille Doll and Mrs. George Reeder won prizes. Mrs. Lloyd Neville and Mrs. Ward were guests. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Neville.

Attending a Farm Bureau women's rally at Massillon were Mrs. Velma Neville, Mrs. Lois Swaney, Mrs. Mable Reeder, Mrs. Treva Neville, Mrs. Maryann Bowman and Mrs. Ruth Baker.

Mount Union Crowns Homecoming Queen

ALLIANCE, Ohio — Brown-haired Tari Travis of Cuyahoga Falls was crowned homecoming queen at Mount Union College today during halftime ceremonies of the football game with Denison.

The senior elementary education major represented Alpha Xi Delta sorority. She also has been a class officer and a member of the Student Senate.

Don Gosney, guest speaker, and candidates were introduced by Norman Bucher, city chairman.

Gosney, county chairman, discussed county projects initiated by Democratic administrations. He called attention to improvements made to "the four-lane highway to Wellsville, St. Clair Ave., the freeway from East Liverpool to Route 170, the widening of Shadyside Rd. and Lisbon St."

Gosney denied "bossing Council members," as he said he had been charged by the previous mayor.

He also mentioned a trip to Chicago by county commissioners and the county engineer to obtain information for a water and sewage program for the county.

John Wargo, county recorder, reported on a new system he plans to initiate in his office the first of next year.

Iris Applegate, county chairwoman, announced that the 1966 campaign conference for Democratic women will be held at the Washington Hilton Hotel in Washington, D. C., April 17-19. The club went on record as supporting the 1-mill levy for the county school for retarded children.

The following club members were named to serve as hostesses during the 13th annual Jefferson Jackson Day dinner Oct. 27: Lillian Smith, Phyllis Stewart, Helen Steffen, Jean Gloneck, Ann Winters and Verne Stone.

Lunch was served. The next meeting will be Nov. 11, with Helen Steffen and Phyllis Stewart comprising the social committee.

ELHS Warms Up For Big Red With 40-6 Rout Over Riders

Potters Score In Every Period To Flash Best Offensive Show

MARTINS FERRY — Striking for touchdowns in every period, the East Liverpool Potters warmed up for their meeting with state ranked Steubenville Big Red next week with a 40-6 victory over Martins Ferry here Friday night before a homecoming crowd.

Coach Bob McNea's forces put on their best offensive show of the season and the 40 points matches the number scored in the opening victory against Beaver Local.

Martins Ferry proved just what the doctor ordered for the Potters who had suffered two losses and played to a tie in their last three outings.

The victory puts East Liverpool's record to 3-2-1 while Martins Ferry, which held a weight advantage in last night's game, dropped their fifth game in six outings.

THE POTTERS struck for several long touchdowns, scoring twice in the first half while chalking up four TD's in the second half.

Breakaway threat Darryl Herring, the 130-pound fullback, got the Potters rolling in the first period when he raced 61 yards for a touchdown the second time East Liverpool got its hands on the ball. Herring's TD came with 4:50 left in the first period.

MARTINS Ferry, which had scored only twice in five games, turned a fumble into a touchdown with 2:14 remaining in the first half to give the Potters a slight scare as the score read 6-6.

Tom Williams, a sophomore, went four yards for the touchdown and a placement attempt by Ernie Smallis failed.

The Riders had gained possession when Chuck Winters, after a hard rush, fumbled and Tom Campbell recovered for the Riders on the Potter 28. It took six plays for Martins Ferry to score.

BEFORE the half was over, East Liverpool registered another six points. The key play was an end around run by Bob Woods who went 38 yards to the Martins Ferry 22.

Winters rolled out of his quarterback spot and rambled 22 yards to paydirt then added the conversion for a 14-6 lead with 1:16 showing in the first half.

The Potters wasted little time getting its offense into high gear in the second half. Taking the opening kickoff, East Liverpool went 62 yards in six plays with Nick Marchbanks racing 40 yards for the six pointer.

LATER in the third period, Marchbanks went 41 yards, but the touchdown was nullified due to a clipping penalty. The ball was brought back to the Riders' 31.

With the help of a pass interference play, the Potters moved to the 11. A Winters - to - Carl Natalina pass was good for 10 yards and Marchbanks banged over from the one for his second touchdown of the night and Jim Gooding added the conversion for a 28-6 margin.

THE BLUE and White struck again with 9:44 remaining in the game when Winters uncorked a 68-yard scoring pass which was grabbed by Mike Goodballet for the touchdown. Goodballet took the ball on about the Rider 30 and outraced defenders to paydirt.

Halfback Denny Smith set up the final touchdown on a 41-yard jaunt which carried to the Martins Ferry six. A play later Smith went the remaining distance to register his first touchdown of the season with 4:11 left in the game.

East Liverpool was impressive in the statistics department with 18 first downs to the Riders seven.

THE POTTERS flashed their top offensive mark of the campaign with total yardage of 456. East Liverpool picked up a net of 361 on the ground and added another 95 in the air.

The Potters' defensive forces allowed Martins Ferry only 29 yards net on the ground as the Riders were thrown for 40 yards in losses. Martins Ferry had 98 in the air and total offense of 127.

Oak Glen Marches To 5th Straight On 21-0 Shutout

The Oak Glen Golden Bears brightened Homecoming festivities Friday with their fifth straight victory, 21-0, over Phillip Barbour at Newell field.

Oak Glen notched its third shutout of the season in raising its slate to 6-1, while the visitors from Phillippi, W.V.A. fell to a 1-6 mark.

HALFBACK Richard Everly got the hosts on the scoreboard in the final minute of play in the first period by scampering 23 yards to pay dirt. Ron Rayburn kicked the first of three extra points for a 7-0 lead.

The drive covered 71 yards with Everly racing for 43 yards on a sweep and Marvin Six crashing for five to set up Everly's scoring sprint.

THE GOLDEN Bear registered the second 'ally' at the 8:45 mark of the second period as Dick Lugano crashed over from the one to climax a 58-yard drive. Rayburn kicked through the uprights for a 14-0 advantage.

Six sparked the drive with a 53-yard sprint. Oak Glen quarterback Tom Thayer caught halfback Dave Gamble open for a 30-yard pass in the opening minute of the fourth quarter for the final touch down. Rayburn made it three straight conversion kicks and a 21-0 finish.

DEFENSE, which has been the Golden Bears trademark all season, came through again Friday as they held the hosts to two to eight yards in the air and 105 yards on the ground.

Meanwhile, the Oak Glen offense rushed for 253 yards overland and added 132 through the airways.

The hosts' backfield never tasted a loss as the offensive wall kept riddling Phillip Barbour's defense.

Both teams suffered from penalties as Oak Glen had 75 yards marched off against it and Phillip Barbour lost 35 yards through infractions.

Chris Registers 3 TD's, Breaks Tie In Last 33 Seconds

MINGO JUNCTION — Chris Thornton crashed over from the four yard line with 33 seconds left in the game to give Wellsville a 20-14 win here Friday night over Mingo Junction.

In a contest that was nip and tuck all the way, Thornton proved the difference in the scoring column as he tallied three touchdowns and rushed for 183 yards in 23 carries.

Mingo broke a scoreless deadlock early in the second period when halfback Ralph Burke broke loose for a 52-yard scamper to paydirt. Ken Valusha crashed in for the extra points and an 8-0 lead.

second stanza. Thornton scored his first touchdown from the four-yard line to climax a 58 yard drive. Dick Hall hit Terry Medley for the conversion and a 8-8 stalemate as the teams left the field for the intermission.

The Tigers kicked off to open the second half of play and held the hosts. A punt gave them the ball on their own 37-yard stripe where they started a 63-yard march to take a 14-8 advantage.

THORNTON raced 58 yards for his second tally to end the drive after three plays. A pass failed in the conversion attempt.

This time it was Mingo's turn to bounce back as it held the Tigers deep in their own territory at the beginning of the fourth stanza. A punt from the end zone gave the host the ball on the Wellsville 19.

SHORTLY after taking possession of the ball, the hungry Indians tied the contest as Dan Olexin barged into the end zone from the three yard stripe. Wellsville held on the conversion attempt and kept the score at 14-14.

The ball exchanged hands twice before the Tigers got possession on their own 40 by way of a punt. Battling the Indians and the clock at the same time, Hall engineered the 60-yard drive to victory. Passes to Ron McCauley and Bob Morehead sparked the charge by picking up crucial first downs.

Thornton climaxed the march with 33 seconds left to boost his season touchdown total to 12 and raise Wellsville's record to 4-2. Mingo fell to a 1-6 showing.

Beavers Rally For 12-6 Win

Klembara Hit Roberts With Late Aerial

Beaver Local scored in the final seconds for a 12-6 victory over East Palestine on the Bulldogs gridiron Friday night.

Denni Klembara came off the bench in the fourth quarter to engineer a 43-yard touchdown drive to even the Beavers record at 3-3. The victory march was climaxed when Klembara connected with Larry Roberts on an 11-yard pass. The run for the points after failed.

East Palestine jumped into the lead in spectacular fashion as halfback Dan Peterson took the opening kickoff of the game and raced 85 yards for a touchdown. A run for the two-point conversion failed and the Bulldogs held a 6-0 lead.

The fighting Beavers bounced back to tie the score in the early moments of the second quarter on 20-yard pass from quarterback Arnold McLaughlin to Richard Schilling. Beaver Local failed in trying to add the two-point conversion and the visitors settled for a 6-6 deadlock after marching 89 yards to paydirt.

Defense was the key word the rest of the way until Klembara, who sat out the first three quarters with an injury, sparked the winning drive with pinpoint passing that netted four first downs enroute to the tie-breaker.

East Palestine threatened the Beaver end zone one other time as Peterson scampered 66 yards on a punt return in the third quarter to the five yard line. Beaver Local's stout defense held with the help of a five-yard penalty.

East Palestine dropped its third game of the season to go with one win and a tie.

Homecoming Queen Honored

Donna Swiger, Oak Glen senior, is shown being escorted from Newell Memorial Field by Bill Marino, also a senior, after she was crowned homecoming queen by E. Russell Slack, Oak Glen principal. Miss Swiger is the daughter of Harry Swiger and Mary Whitehead of New Cumberland.

Senior attendants were Candi Clutter, Karen Elliott, Ginnie Newbrough and Cookie Staley. Nancy Gibson and Nila Summers were junior attendants. Gretchen Smith, an Oak Glen graduate and last year's queen, presented Miss Swiger with a bouquet of red roses.

During the halftime exercises of the Oak Glen - Phillip Barbour football game, the Oak Glen band and chorus formally presented the Oak Glen alma mater, composed and arranged by Ivan Howell, a senior member of the band.

Jim Chetock, president of the student council, was master of ceremonies. Faculty sponsors were Miss Sara Thomas, Larry Liberto, Miss Sandra Daugherty and Mrs. Kathryn Gregory.

Oak Glen won the game 21-0.

The homecoming dance will be held tonight from 8 to 11 in the fieldhouse at the school.

Leetonia Is Upset Victim

Clippers Post First, 14-8

LEETONIA — The Columbian Clippers broke a five-game losing streak by downing Leetonia, 14-8, Friday night in a strong defensive battle on the Bears gridiron.

Halfback Jack Hawkins plunged from the one yard line to climax a 76-yard drive with the opening kickoff to give the Clippers a 6-0 lead. Fullback Dick Keller ran for the conversion and an 8-0 advantage with 3:37 showing on the clock in the first period.

Columbiana's payoff tally came midway through the second stanza when Keller raced down the right sidelines for a 45-yard punt return. A pass failed to convert the extra points.

Fullback Dave Conrad provided Leetonia with its touchdown as he picked off a Jim Murphy pass at the Columbian 20 and raced into the end zone. Leetonia quarterback Jim DeJana connected with Tom Coseno for the points after to complete the scoring with 5:20 left in the third quarter.

up 13 first downs to the Bears, intercepted three passes to spearhead the stingy Columbian defense.

Alston Is Selected NL Manager Of The Year

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The response was typical when Walter Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers was advised he'd been voted National League Manager of the Year for 1965.

"The only thing I can say," said the tall, 53-year-old skipper, "is that the ball club made it possible."

Alston was named for the honor in the annual Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

It came, of course, a day after the Dodgers won the seventh and deciding game of the World Series over the Minnesota Twins.

No. 1 Massillon Nips Big Red On Late Tally, 20-14

STUEBENVILLE — In what could have been the game of the year in Ohio, Massillon came from behind with five minutes remaining to score a 20-14 victory over a fired up Steubenville Big Red team here Friday night.

One of the largest crowds in Harding Stadium history, numbering 9,498 saw Big Red take a 14-12 lead late in the first half and cling to the margin until the Tigers marched 59 yards in the final period for the winning touchdown.

The victory protected Massillon's No. 1 rating in Ohio but the Tigers fell behind for the first time this season. Steubenville had been named the No. 4 team in the state poll.

MASSILLON scored the first time it had its hands on the ball when Dave Sheegog hit Dick Paige with an 11-yard touchdown pass with 8:01 still remaining in the first quarter but Foster was snowed under on the conversion attempt.

Big Red bounced right back when Dwight Sims took the next kickoff on his 19 and raced 81 yards to tie the contest at 6-6. Bob Smith was stopped in his tracks on the conversion attempt. The score came with 7:48 showing in the first quarter.

IN THE second quarter, Big Red punter Mike Palmer dropped a snap from center on a punting situation and attempted to run the ball only to be dropped on his own 29. Eight plays later Massillon forged in front 12-6 as Chuck James cracked over from the one. James was stopped on the conversion try.

A Bob Endres to Palmer pass for 34 yards set up Big Red's 22 seconds remaining in the first half as Palmer swept the right side from two yards out.

Big Red was forced to punt with 3:27 left then got the ball back with 1:27 remaining but failed to move the pigskin. Massillon showed an edged in statistics with 13-6 in first downs and a net of 123 yards rushing to Big Red's 81.

The victory was the sixth straight win for Massillon while Big Red holds a 5-1 mark and meets East Liverpool next Friday at Patterson Field.

Midland Has Big Edge In Statistics, But Drops 7-6 Tilt

Leopards Suffer 4th Loss

Midland coach Joe Cochran still must be shaking his head over Friday night's 7-6 loss to Rochester for its difficult to figure out how the Leopards lost it.

Midland won in every department but the scoreboard as the frustrated Leopards compiled a lopsided edge in statistics but to no avail.

THE LEOPARDS, which now list a 2-4 mark, knocked on the touchdown door all night but could only manage one.

Midland had a 16-2 advantage in first downs and 162 to 12 yards rushing. The Leopards had another 50 yards in the air for a total offense of 162 while Rochester, with a 3-3 record now, showed only 12 yards for the game.

MIDLAND scored with 3:20 left in the first half when full-back Tom Wuchina bulled his way over from the one. A Bernie Mraovic to Rich Mahurt pass for the conversion was incomplete.

In the third period, Rochester's quarterback Chuck Pinchotti took a Wuchina punt on his own 20 and raced 80 yards for the Rams only touchdown.

With the score tied 6-6, Bob Wallace gave Rochester the edge when his placement sailed through the uprights.

MIDLAND attempted to bounce back and moved to the Rochester 13 late in the fourth quarter before running out of gas.

Many other scoring attempts came up including one in the first period when Midland drove to the Rochester four and had a first and six situation before the Rams line stiffened and held.

MIDLAND 0 6 0 0-6
ROCHESTER 0 0 7 0-7

Midland — Wuchina 1 yd. run, (pass failed)

Rochester — Pinchotti 80 yd. punt return. (Wallace placement)

Lisbon Misses In 28-20 Loss To Sebring Eleven

LISBON — The Lisbon Blue Devils, still seeking their first victory, fell short of the mark here Friday night in dropping a 28-20 decision to Sebring in a Tri-County League battle.

Lisbon jumped off to a 14-0 lead before Sebring bounced back to go in front 22-20 at halftime.

Don Blair opened the scoring with a pass to end Ashley Pike covering 25 yards but the run for the conversion was stopped.

Blair again pitched a six yard touchdown pass to Chuch Drakulich and a Muntean to Blair pass netted the conversion.

Sebring bounced back as John

Schwartzhoff plunged over from the one but the Trojans missed the conversion.

Doug Kolbreath tied the game or, a four yard run to paydirt then added the conversion.

Lisbon went back into the lead when Drakulich took a pass from Muntean for five yards and six points.

Sebring grabbed the lead before halftime when Schwartzhoff went over from the three and a Kilbreath converted.

Kilbreath also scored the final touchdown on a two yard plunge. Sebring's record is 2-4 while Lisbon stands 0-6.

In Key NFL Encounter

Lions Out To Halt Surge Of First Place Green Bay

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Lions, still shaken after last week's nightmare encounter with Johnny Unitas, may be in for double trouble Sunday when they try to halt Green Bay's National Football League winning streak in a pivotal Western Division game.

The Lions, drubbed 31-7 last Sunday by the Colts and the Baltimore Colts, will be rebounding against a Green Bay club that has captured four straight — and still has failed to reach its peak. The Packers, eighth in NFL offensive and defensive figures despite the only perfect record in the league, are overdue to put everything together.

A Detroit victory could throw the western race into a three-way tie between the Packers, Lions and Colts.

The Colts are two-touchdown favorites over the winless Washington Redskins, from whom they've taken five straight since 1959.

St. Louis, tied with Cleveland, for the Eastern Division lead at 3-1, visit improving but still winless Pittsburgh. The Browns, who barely got by the Steelers last week, entertain Dallas while Philadelphia is at New York, Chicago at Minnesota and San Francisco at Los Angeles in other games.

The Cowboys, upended by Philadelphia a week ago, hope to spring speedster Bob Hayes loose against Cleveland.

The Browns are counting on the return of quarterback Frank Ryan to full-time duty and their league-leading ground attack paced by Jimmy Brown.

King Hill, Ryan's old teammate at Rice, will call the signals for Philadelphia as the resurgent Eagles try to spoil New York's home opener.

The rookie-laden Giants won two of their first three road games, including a 16-14 decision over the Eagles, but took a 40-14 pounding from Minnesota last Saturday night.

The Vikings, led by scrambling quarterback Fran Tarkenton, go for their third straight victory against the Bears who stunned Los Angeles 31-6 last Sunday behind the passing of Rudy Bukich and the all-around play of flashy rookie Gale Sayers.

Saan Francisco tackles the Rams at Los Angeles after tough road losses at Baltimore and Green Bay. The game figures as a toss-up but another top performance by John Brodie, who completed 21 of 35 against the Packers, could give the 49ers an edge.

Junior Editors Quiz on TAPE RECORDER

QUESTION: How does a tape recorder work?

ANSWER: Outside John Littlejohn's tape recorder are two reels on which a thin plastic tape can be wound back and forth. This tape is coated with minute iron particles. John speaks into a microphone which turns the sound vibrations into electric signals (1). These are amplified or enlarged (2) and then passed around through an electromagnet (3). While so doing, the signals jump an air gap and pass over the tape which moves below them. The signals magnetize the particles on the tape and cause them to become arranged in different patterns. In "playing back", (4) the tape, with its magnetized particles is again moved through the magnetic field. But this time the patterns of the particles make the magnet produce faint electric signals which are sent through an amplifier and then turned into sound waves, which we can hear, through a loud speaker (5). This process, which truly seems like magic, allows someone to speak into a tape recorder, and then by playing the reel back, hear exactly what he has said. Tape recorders are busy little machines in our amazing age. They are used in space flights, in business, in recording television programs for later broadcast and in countless other ways.

FOR YOU TO DO: If you have a tape recorder, or if you have a friend who has one, buy a reel of tape and get a record of the voices of everyone in your family. Playing this back later on will give you extreme interest and pleasure.

Terry Hill of Greeley, Colo., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of the Review.

How Can I?
ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I repair cracks in my basement laundry tubs?
A.—First, widen the crack in the tub by opening it with a cold chisel and hammer, then clean out the dirt, grease, and soap. Next mix litharge and glycerin to a putty just stiff enough to be worked into the crack easily with a putty knife. Then let your repair patch dry for at least 24 hours before running water into the tub.

Q.—How can I remove grease stains from plastered walls, and thus prevent their bleeding through new wallpaper?
A.—Tape a paper "pocket" over the stained area, then fill this pocket with fuller's earth. Remove the whole business after the fuller's earth has absorbed all the grease.

Q.—How can I remove milk stains from fabrics?
A.—After moistening with warm water, apply powdered pepsin and work this into the fabric with a glass rod. Then let it remain for a half-hour or so before sponging with water or washing.

Q.—What do you advocate as the easiest way to apply liquid wax?
A.—The use of a sponge that has been dipped into water and wrung dry of all excess moisture. This will do a much better job and use up less wax than a dry one would.

Projects Set By Area Guild

The Guild of St. Luke's Episcopal Church of Georgetown, meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Allison this week, decided to sell candy and ribbons as a fund-raising project.

Mrs. Samuel Laughlin led devotions and conducted the business in absence of Mrs. James McHaffie, president.

Mrs. Parkley McHaffie was the assisting hostess.

Mrs. John Mackall will be hostess for the November meeting, with Mrs. Richard Trimble assisting.

Mrs. O. C. Zimmerman of Chester is the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James McHaffie.

Mrs. Paul Mackall, president of the Methodist Women's Society of Christmas Service, and Mrs. Kendig Laughlin attended the Beaver Valley Sub-District WSCS workshop at the Freedom Methodist Church Wednesday.

The first quarter conference of the Methodist Church held at West Bridgewater was attended by Mrs. John Nash, Mrs. Edwin Cooper, Mrs. Kendig Laughlin, Mrs. Paul Mackall and Miss Flora Nash.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hobbs visited recently with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Way of Port Matilda, Pa.

Edward Hobbs and Jack Moore, a student at the Philadelphia School of Pharmacy.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cromer have left for a visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cromer of Phoenix, Ariz., and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Richmond of Denver, Colo.

Judge Fines Man $50 On Intoxication Count

A man identified as Raymond Redick of Ravine St. was fined $50 and costs Friday in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty before Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp on an intoxication charge filed under state law.

The affidavit was filed by the defendant's wife, Mrs. Bernice Redick, alleging he was intoxicated Thursday.

A fine of $25 and costs was imposed on William Comp, an East Liverpool man with no permanent address, when he pleaded guilty to an intoxication charge also filed under state law. Police said he was arrested at 12:43 this morning while in a second floor hallway of an E. 6th St. business building.

Returned To Old Post

MOSCOW (AP) — Vladimir Shcherbitsky, former premier of the Ukraine demoted by Nikita Khrushchev, has returned to his old post, Soviet newspapers announced today.

Berry Backed By Johnson For Congress

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Democrats, counting on strong national party support in a bid to capture the 7th District Congressional seat for the first time in 29 years, are off to a big start—with a telegram from President Johnson backing Clark County Prosecutor James M. Berry for the seat.

"In you," the President told Berry Friday, "they (those living in the district) have found a responsible and articulate spokesman for their cause and I sincerely hope that they will unanimously decide to send you to Washington as their official representative."

"Your distinguished record as Clark County prosecutor brilliantly attests to your high qualifications, and your experience and good judgment are a valuable and welcome asset as together we seek the full realization of a better life for all Americans."

Berry is running against Republican Clarence J. Brown, Urbana publisher and radio station operator, in a special congressional election Nov. 2 to fill the seat left vacant by the death of Brown's father, Clarence J. Brown. The senior Brown held the seat for 27 years prior to his death Aug. 23.

Koppers Reports Record In Sales

PITTSBURGH — Third-quarter sales of Koppers Co., Inc., were $98,386,000, compared with $89,821,000 for the same three months last year. Sales in the quarter just completed represented the highest quarterly sales volume achieved in the company's history.

Koppers sales for the first nine months of this year were $265,386,000, also a record, and up from $245,486,000 in 1964.

Third-quarter net income was $3,181,000, or $1.34 per share, compared with $2,812,000, or $1.20 per share, earned in the same period last year.

Net income for the first nine months was $8,731,000, which was equivalent, after provision for payment of preferred dividends, to $3.64 per share of common stock outstanding. Nine-month income was 13 per cent higher than the $7,698,000, or $3.28 per share, earned in 1964.
